Dear Bobby Wobby.

Gee, if it weren't for you always wanting to go out for breakfast I wouldn't always be getting in trouble for coming in. Anyway, I've seen your two colors especially Tuesday, pink. If it weren't for you and all those interesting stories 1st period I think I Mike and I would have fallen asleep by now. Oh well, I'll see ya, Take care and Watch your mouth. Give my regards to Joe Digidio

Bob,
Your smart-ass mouth kept Daugherty in his place, and helped out him a little too. Make sure you keep up the "hard" work in the future.
Good luck next year in " "

Bob,
It's nice to be different?
We're having all only reunion whens.
Remember the good times we had skiing, Vail & Breckenridge. Well send you some heavenly hash of school.
Ja gotta come back so we can ski together next year. Don't forget our room parties at Vail and Bun

Bob,
I started on a ski trip, one night high in my bed, you remember don't you?
I know Mike does. after that it was great, we all went from on Mac's to the other. and always knew what to do. But when it got warm we all hit the Beach, till that got to be a drag. I hope the summer is going to go a little better then the school year.
Bob always stay clean and never done any of

Dear Bob,
It's been a long time and we've all been waiting moment to get out of more homeroom announcements, no more basic writing, no more high school. I know you'll miss the club but you'll make it & I know you will be a great engineer and I know you'll do great at IIT Love,
Laura

Bob, remember Mrs. Merl? That was three years ago already. I can hardly believe we've been here that long has gone pretty fast. It's already 3 months since we were at Vail. Well maybe next year we'll be able to go again. Well take care and good luck in everything you do.

"Maine Way" leads schools to 75 years of excellence

by Barbara Bender and Meryl Levinson

The "Maine Way," which is physically present in every room of the school, is the list of written ideals of every Maine student. Along with the 4-Way Test of "Truth, Fairness, Goodwill, and Friendship," the "Maine Way" has given the Maine Township schools a tradition of quality education and desireable values throughout its seventy-five years of existence. Through the pages of the 1977 Lens, the staff is exploring the success of Maine's seventy-five years.

East celebrates anniversary with a face lift

by Carol Kucan

Maine East offers a wide range of beauty to please those involved with the school. Recreational beauty was found by the sports participants who enjoyed the addition of more tennis courts and the new wrestling room. The grounds around the school were improved by the addition of trees and flowers. Maine's interior even changed; walls were brightly painted and new floors were laid. Superman, whose poster was attached to the door, greeted all those who entered Room 142. Posters brought in by the students covered the room's walls and ceiling. But the greatest amount of beauty Maine offered this year was contained in one of the smaller objects in the school, the bell. The school bell gave great relief to those who anxiously awaited their after-school plans.

Bob,
Its been nice having you in ske club for you have helped me get involved with our school more. Its been nice knowing you ad been involved with ske you at Vail. Even though I didn't get any sleep at night but I did it ske then it didn't have a nice Summer either

We've come a long way

by Karen Malantis

"You've come a long way, baby" is often associated with women and their progress, but it is equally applicable to our school and its progress in teaching methods. When Maine East opened its doors 75 years ago, the typical and only classroom consisted of a teacher and a very clean blackboard whose main purpose was undoubtedly to be washed after school — as the primary form of disciplinary punishment — that is, until the invention of the ruler.

Perhaps the first and most significant change was the integration of visual aids such as, slides, overhead projectors, films, and video tape machines. Although some students may regard a class period watching a movie as a free period, the majority of the students not only enjoy the break from normal routine, but actually learn something. For example, how many of us viewed Shakespeare as some foreign immigrant, who never really mastered the English language, until we had the opportunity to see "Romeo and Juliet" in glorious technicolor; then the garbled writings of Shakespeare miraculously transformed themselves into English.

Simulation games, another effective and innovative teaching method, have provided valuable insights for students. These role-playing exercises have started a whole new generation of Sarah Hearburns and Robert Redfords, not to mention the Clarence Darrows who evolve from participating in mock trials and cross-examinations in Social Science classes. Perhaps your thing is T.V. In that case, the English Dept. provides training for your future. Future television moguls have fun practicing simulating the programming process in Mass Media.

Another major development in teaching methods is the use of computers. This pertains not only to teachers and counselors, but students as well. The Xerox Machine, for example, is probably one of the greatest methods by which we learn. For through the use of this wonderful machine, many assignments get taken home that otherwise would have remained encased 800-page books, never to have seen the light of day.

Also valuable to our future lives are future generations who will be the inventors of even more sophisticated technology. East students have access to valuable experience working with these young children in the Nursery School, a part of the Child Occupations program.

In its first three-quarters of a century, Maine East can be proud of the diverse ways it has progressed to offer education to its students.

In 75 years, clubs have come . . . and gone . . . and come back

by Dawn Andersohn, Sue Jung and Karen O'Hagan

In the 75 years of its history, Maine has watched many clubs rise and many clubs fall. Some have been able to withstand the test of time and grow and mature; others, however, have not been as fortunate. One of the clubs unable to survive or even enjoy a rebirth is the Good Words Club. The now-defunct club, designed to help its members control their speech, lasted until students decided the club was outdated and its purpose irrelevant. Clubs which drowned along with the Good Words Club were Rifle Club, ROTC, and Model Airplane Club. Some organizations were able to rally again after laying dormant for a while. The Lifters, a club designed to promote physical well-being, has enjoyed a revival after several years of being non-existent. Mounted Mainites was able to bridge the gap of time by changing its name to Riding Club. Orchesis changed its name from Modern Dance Club and has been an active organization at East since the '50's.

Recently, a number of new clubs has been added to offer students a wide selection from which to choose. Change in clubs is not surprising or unusual since they are accurate reflections of the interest and values of the times. Exemplifying this are Green Thumb Club and SAVE, which deal with present environmental problems. Other relatively new clubs which provide enjoyable recreation for East students are Circus Club, Ski Club, and Photo Club. East can proudly boast about these as well as the other 75 clubs in existence.

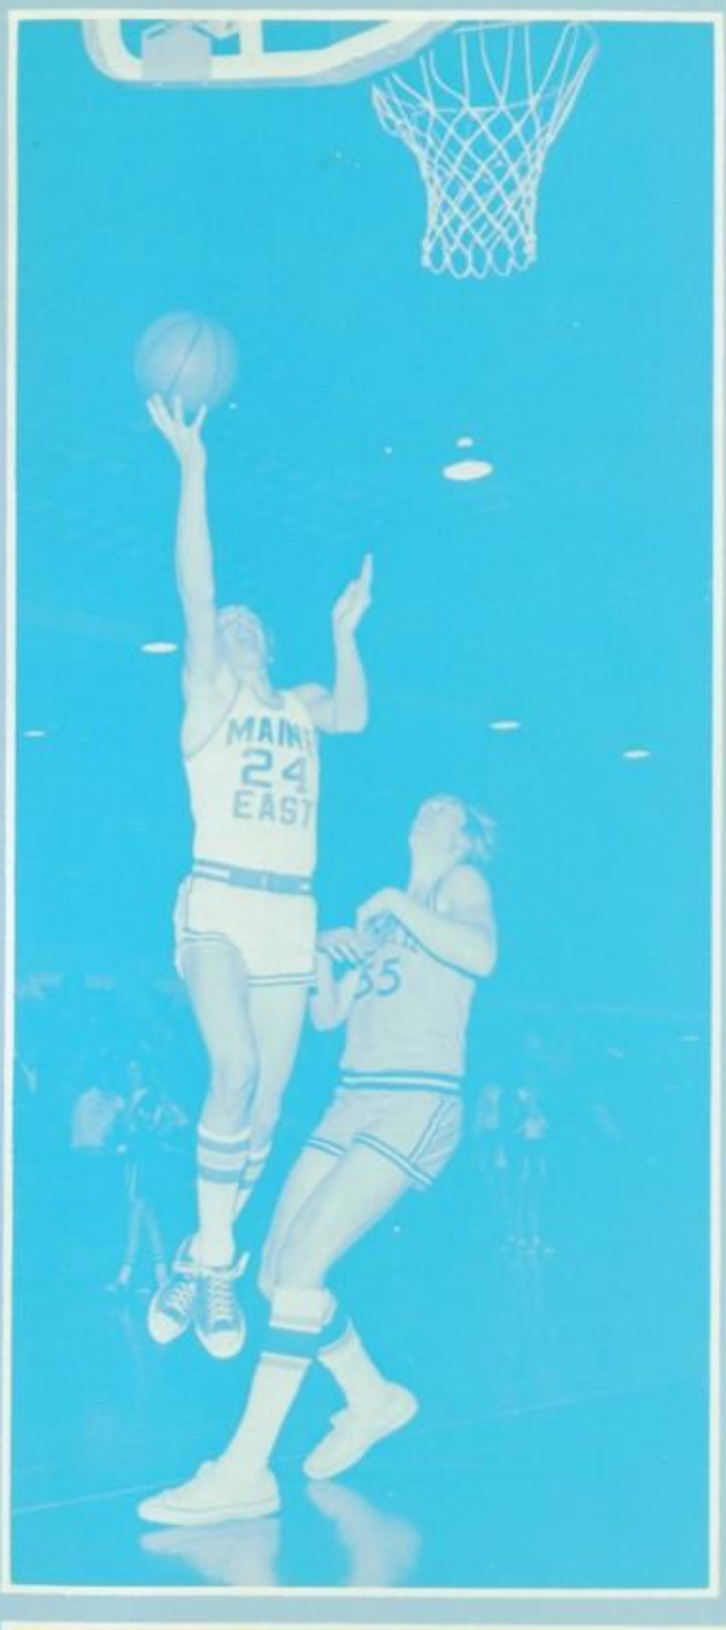
It's been a real thrill in math class this year. What a joke! Ruth loved me!! How about that one test we worked on during class. I think we both failed! The most was when Nancy was in and you sat behind me. I missed a lot of corny jokes this year. I'm broken-hearted! All in all, it wasn't that bad. Good luck in college. And forever. Hope to see you again.

Love,
Dawn Anderson

A symbol of success

by Barbara Bender



Much of Maine's success lies in its boys and girls' sports program. School pride and spirit are founded in our winning teams. There had been student apathy in many areas for awhile; yet attitudes have changed, and students are now not only interested and enthusiastic about our sports teams, but most of school life interests them as a result. Both programs give the talented and highly skilled students the opportunities for competition experience with other schools, for physical excellence, for maturing into a more complete person, and for scholarships. Mindy Benson reviewed the girls' program as a method for "girls to get involved, to learn leadership, to have fun, and to meet a lot of different people and know each one of them very well." Craig Franklin finds "athletics as much a part of learning as academics. There is a good group of guys and an excellent coaching staff and director which makes our sports' program beneficial to those involved."

It appears that a sports' program is very valuable for the school and for the students. However, at a Rockford High School, the programs have been eliminated due to financial problems. Some sports have been reinstated by the people in the community who are paying for them. Evidently, they too find the program necessary for the entire development of the student. Miss Anzalone, Dean of Girls, "hopes that Maine doesn't come to cutting out any part of the program. A great number of students are involved; they would be wrecked and a good part of their total selves would be missing. Sports has been the reason why many students stay in school." "Cutting out the program is ridiculous. Yet, if there is no financial backing, what else can they do — sports cost a lot, but they are worth it," according to Bruce Ringstrand. All of the coaches agree that it is a sad situation. At present there is no thought of cancelling any part of the sports program.

The boys' sports has been a part of Maine for almost all of Maine's existence. "However the girls haven't always had the opportunity for the highly skilled and their development as they have now," recalled Mrs. Bricker. The individual sports such as tennis and badminton were accepted by society and thus placed in competition; it took much longer for the highly competitive team sports to become a part of girls' athletics. What kept girls from having sports seasons was the reasoning that it would be socially and physically harmful. Later it was ruled that girls could compete, but boys couldn't compete in the same sports; this didn't work. Then girls were permitted to have play days and then sports days with other schools. In 1970 when the boys were joining the CSL, the girls formed teams and also joined.

An innovative feature was continued this year. Mr. Wilson assisted Miss Broucek in tennis, and Mr. Witt was the head basketball coach. Mr. Riek said that there is a possibility of female coaches on his staff, and he would have no objections to that. Carol Weisbecker felt that "men, I'm sorry to say, do have more knowledge and skill than most women; they can therefore build up better teams. However, in a few years, there will be some headline women coaches."

Mr. Riek, director of the boys' athletic program, marvels about "the outstanding coaching staff and the student athletes' behavior, social and academic achievements, and their personal and team accomplishments." Miss Bovenmeyer, director of the girls' program, is proud that "the girls now have the opportunity to participate in ten very competitive and well-organized sports. They have come to compete as fiercely as boys. Regarding the violence in sports, the girls find pride in that they outplayed and beat the other team fairly. Yet they need recognition and respect that they are just beginning to receive."

A LOOK INTO THE FUTURE

by Mike Lachman

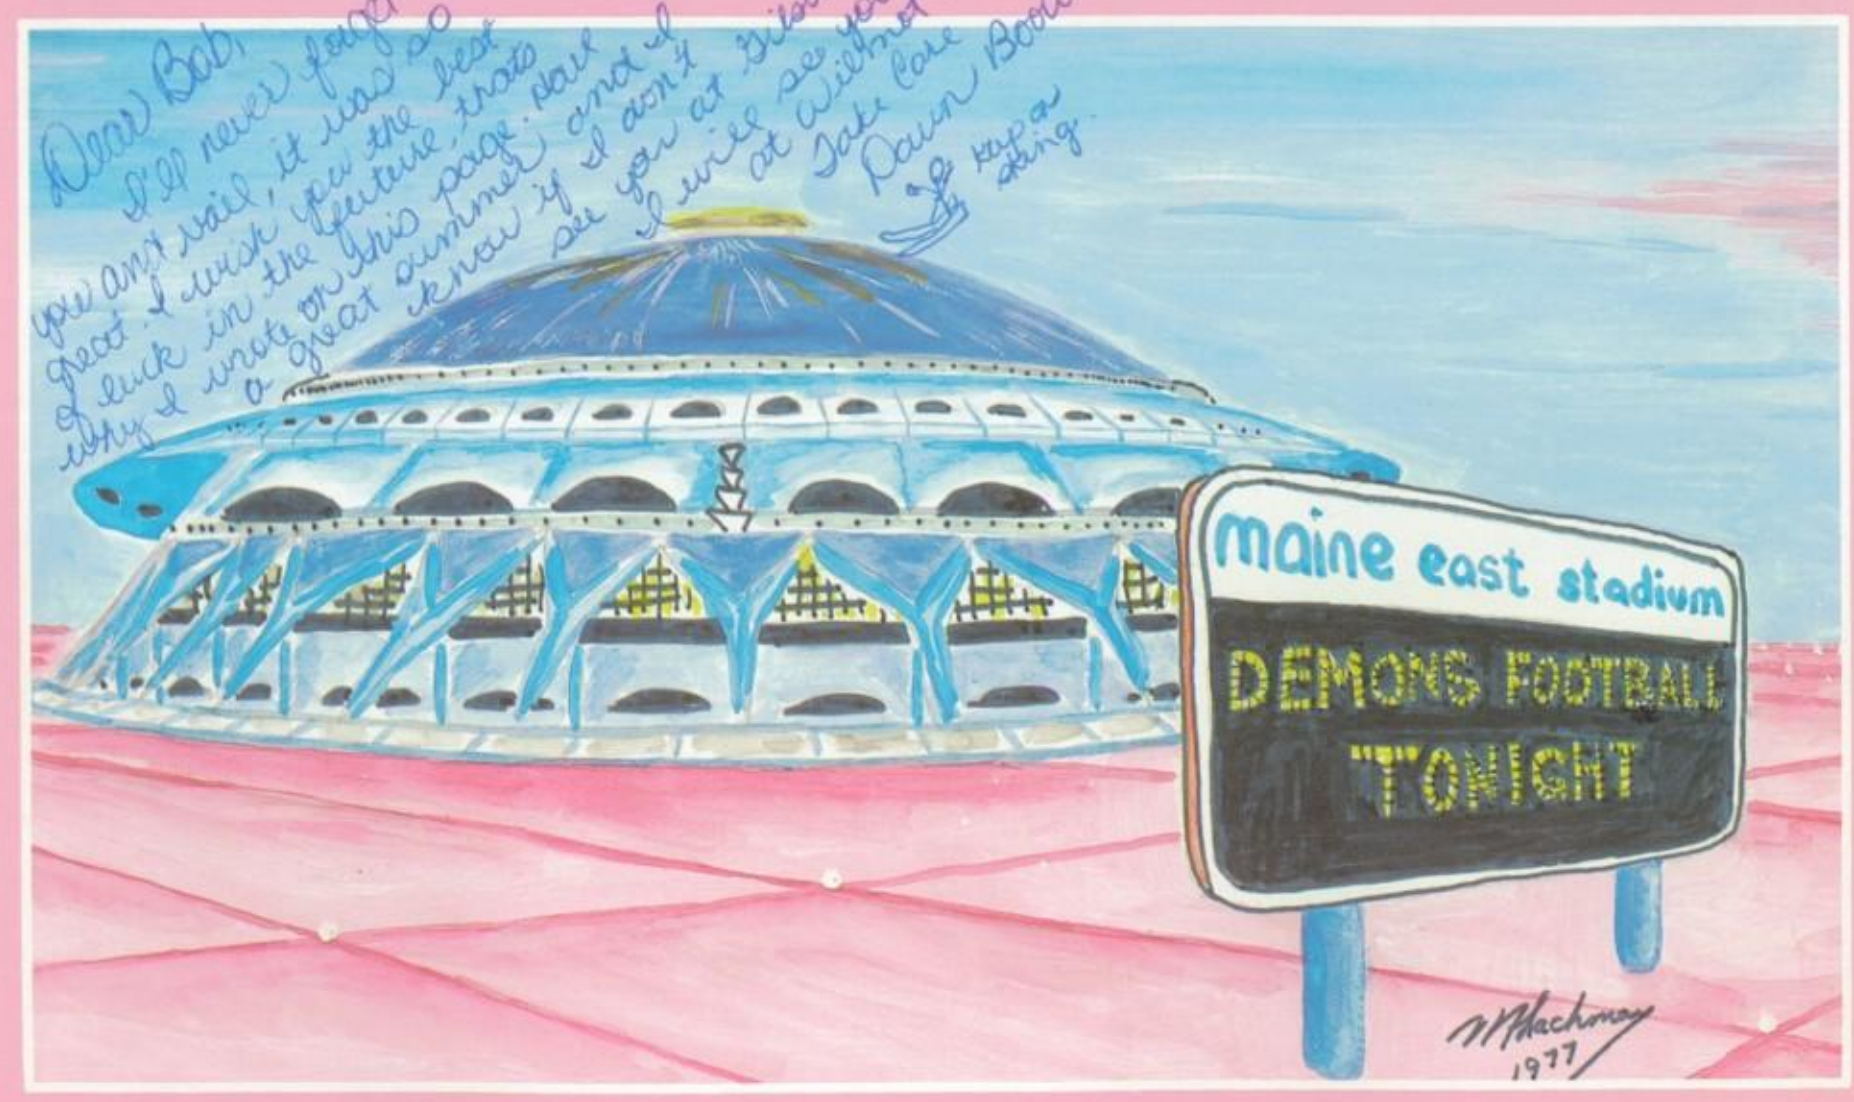
The 75th anniversary of Maine East is a time to look back and reflect upon the past. But it is also a time to look foreward, to wonder about what things will be like in the future. This, too, was the focus of Student Council in their Homecoming theme.

When students attend East in the future, there will be door-to-door transportation to and from school. They will be able to use complex learning systems tied in to a central computer. The same basic subjects will be taught, but they will be more advanced than we could imagine. There will be areas of math studied that we never thought existed, and they will be learned with better comprehension in much less time. In science students will be able to view single atoms and synthesize cells. English will still be taught in order to keep some tradition and culture, but all people will learn another language, an international language, which will be necessary with the increase in world transportation and travel. In history students will learn about a "Watergate Affair" of the 70's and early Mars landings. And, of course, people will enjoy looking at copies of old yearbooks, like the '77 LENS, and laughing at the funny clothes and simple four-wheeled vehicles.

The world will be a smaller place. Swifter and more economic means of transprotation will make anyplace on earth easily accessible. Mass transportation will be perfected and will be the most convenient way of getting around.

With the invention of increasingly powerful weapons, world peace will be necessary for the survival of life on earth. Nations will have their own cultures and governments, but they will see they must get along without war.

It is evident that the world will be a different place. East has progressed greatly within the past 75 years. It will be fun to see the vast changes that have occurred by our 150th anniversary.



Dear Bob,
I wish we could have been closer friends but I'm glad that I met you. I don't know what I would have done without you in Houston. I wish for you all the best of luck in all that you do.
Love + Happiness always Debbie

Bob,
It was great having you in my class. I really enjoyed it. I'm sure you'll do well in all your classes. Keep up the good work. Best of luck in the future.

P.S. You really are okay. I just can't pass up a chance to put someone down. Have a great summer.

East students aid candidates on the campaign trails

Election '76 — an exciting, humorous, but sometimes tear-jerking event, provided many opportunities for East students to become involved. Campaigning for favorite candidates was popular among students. Andrea Gordon, Mikva campaign coordinator at East, reported that over 50% of campaign workers were students. According to Andi, "This proves that students are concerned with what's going on in the country."

The Social Studies Department sponsored speakers by candidates Abner Mikva, Samuel Young, Aaron Jaffe, Penny Pullen, former East student, Alvin Marks, and David Wilkie, campaign aide for Eugene Schlickman. The candidates spoke about their campaigns, opponents, and stands on the issues.

Student interest in the election seemed to be a valid reflection of citizen interest in the nation. Fifty-three per cent of the registered voters turned out at the polls on November 2. This was not expected because experts had predicted high voter apathy. In this election, it became apparent that the fate of the country was important to students and adults.

I'll start my diet . . . tomorrow

The sweet tooth is alive and well at Maine East, according to a Dessert Survey distributed by Lens to nearly 200 students. Weight Watchers and similar agencies would not be happy to know that East students, on the average, indulge in dessert-eating seven or more times a week. Chocolate-chip ice cream was ranked as favorite dessert and Buffalo's was considered the number one ice-cream parlor. Dessert lovers, though, did not discriminate against other scrumptious delights. Cakes and pies were also among top favorites listed. Of the pies, strawberry was ranked favorite; in the cake department, chocolate was rated number one. Ideal places to find these, according to dessert gourmets, are Zweig's Restaurant and Poppin Fresh.

Creative responses were given when asked for dream dessert creations. One student has dreams of devouring a 12-foot high cake. Another student is waiting to consume a "bowl of blue ice cream with hot fudge, vanilla pudding and pumpkin-seed sprinkles." Whatever your dream creation may be, Lens wishes you sweet dessert-eating — a rich, full life is sure to follow.

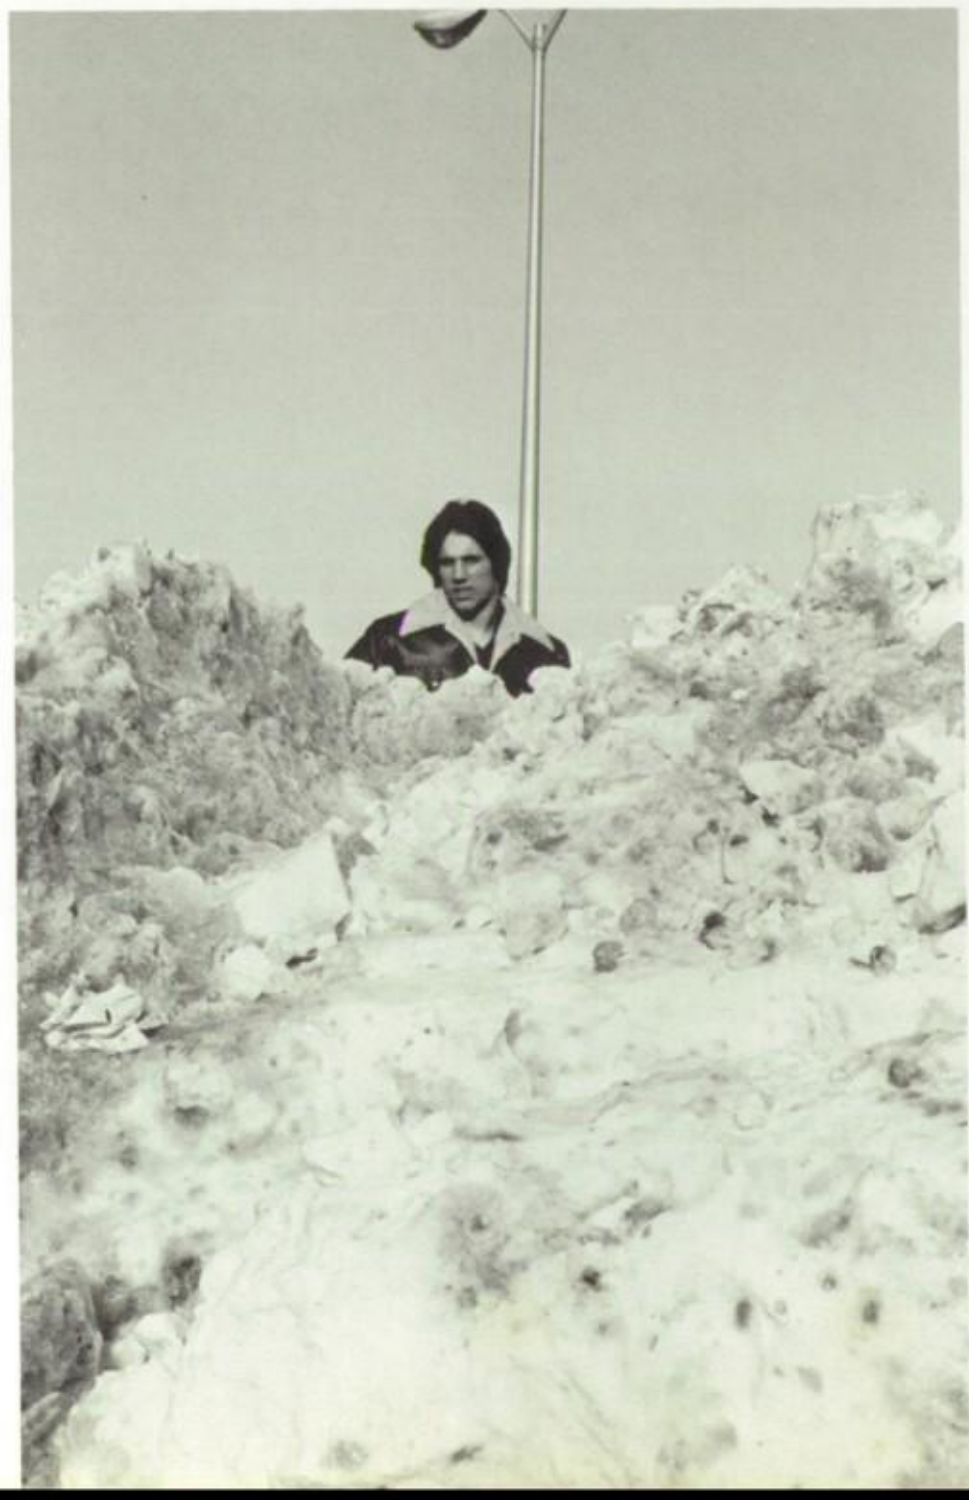
STUDENTS ENJOY

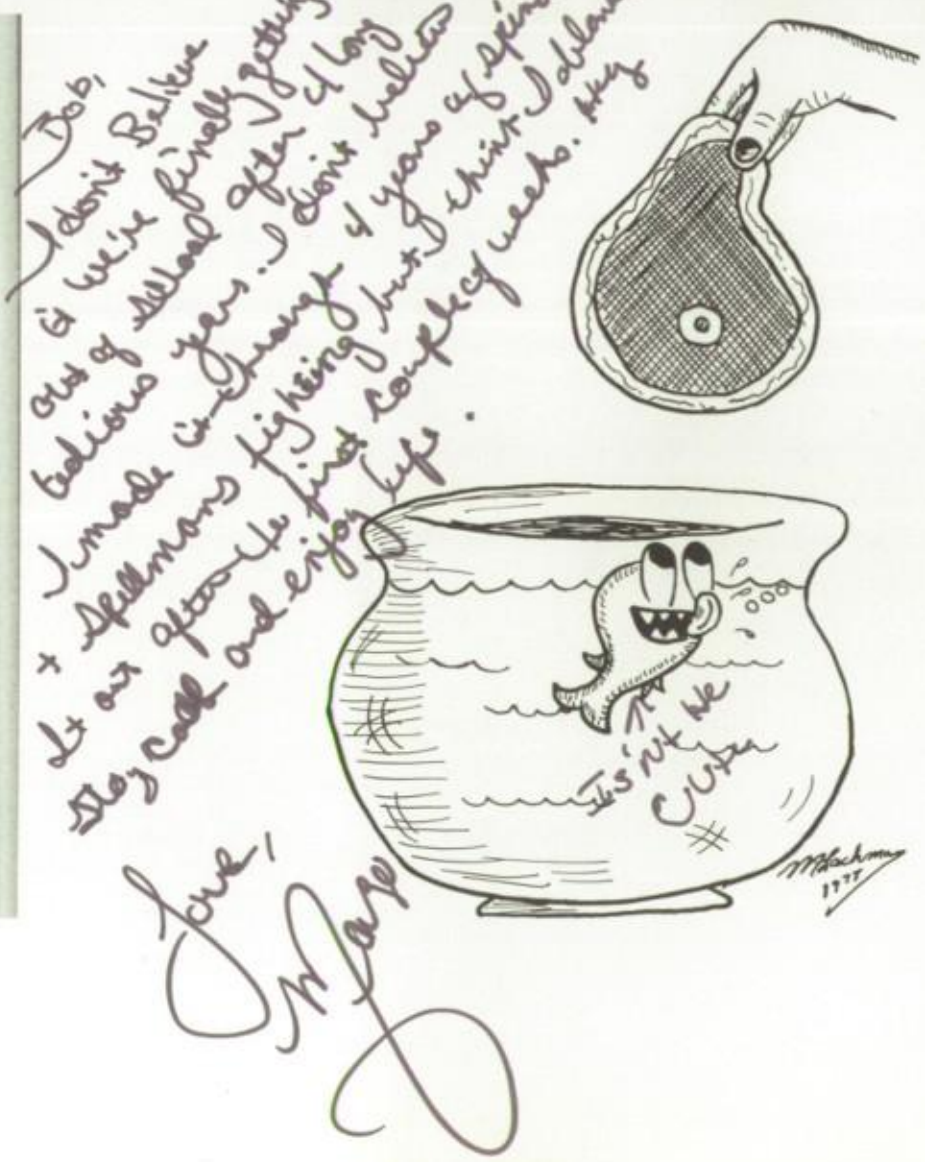
Maine students also suffered through the famed "winter of '77." A rare school closing helped ease the energy crisis and keep the students cozy and warm at home. On January 28, the school remained closed until the evening when the brave January graduates received their diplomas. The following week, electricity was minimized by the order of Commonwealth Edison due to diminishing resources. A various number of schedules were used that week to accommodate late arrivals. Students' daydreams of sunbathing on Florida beaches were shattered by the news of snow in Florida. On the other hand, Alaska had had a rather mild winter. This is one winter that students will remember for a long time.



SNOW DAY

Not teachers' pets --- but students' pets

Many Maine East students indulge in the pleasure of owning pets. The types of animals owned range from fish, hamsters, and cats to ducks, boas, and piranhas. Surveys revealed that large dogs are the most desirable pets, especially sheepdogs, dobermans, and German Shepherds. Although pet ownership requires much responsibility, many students find time in their busy schedule for their pets



Students tune in and turn on the CB

by Peter Kacmarek —

Results of a hobby survey circulated to East students revealed a significant interest in the CB radio. The CB craze was initiated by truckers who found it an effective way to beat out the 55 m.p.h. speed limit. Since then, though, people of all ages and in all types of work, have found that the two-way radio has many advantages, especially for mobile use.

The somewhat ridiculous language used by all CB'ers provides a short way of communication. Codes such as the 10-code, 10-4, 10-9, 10-10 .... or 10-100 (nature calls) may arouse the curiosity of those unfamiliar with this system of communication. Slang expressions such as, "Racket-Jaw," "Copy the mail," "Peanut in your Ear," may also add to the confusion.

As usual, money-makers cashed in on the CB boom. Among the industries who capitalized were book and record companies as well as electronic manufacturers. On the other side of the coin, the CB contributed to a lot of breakthroughs such as the wireless chassis.

The Federal Communications Commission even updated its computer facilities to handle the more than 500,000 license applications per day. The FCC has even expanded its operating privileges to 40 channels.

Whether or not you consider the CB a hobby, recreational activity or something else, it is one of Maine East students' favorite pastimes. Well, we'll have to shoot you the 3's now, so have a Fine One, and we'll catch you later.

Are teachers really people? Do they do other things besides make up tests, homework, and "unfair" grading scales? In a survey compiled by the Lens Staff, teachers responded to questions in a "humanly" manner.

According to responses given, reading, sewing, camping, gardening, and woodworking are East faculty members' favorite activities. But besides these everyday "routine" activities, some faculty members have original ways of spending their days off. Mrs. Bossard, Special Education teacher, for example, enjoys flying an airplane and motorcycling with her husband. Science teacher Mr. Guthrie enjoys kayaking, and Italian teacher Mr. Grottola finds enjoyment building model ships.

Summer vacations come as a relief to teachers, as well as students, it was revealed. For many teachers it involves summer jobs such as teaching, waitressing, cashiering, or carpentering. Many teachers, though, just take it easy or travel.

The majority of the Maine East faculty has traveled to Europe, South America, and throughout America and Canada. LRC head Janet Meyer recently (and bravely) participated in an African Safari. English Department Chairman Dr. Howarth has visited the Far East.

While they're not traveling, many faculty members keep busy by participating in sports. Biking, swimming, hiking, and playing golf and tennis are the most popular ways in which teachers keep physically fit. Mr. Sebastion of the Drivers Ed Department, it was learned, formerly played professional basketball in the National BB League.

When asked what they liked best about Maine East, most answered, "students, fellow faculty members, and good facilities." For some teachers teaching has been in the family for years. Mr. Barker, foreign language teacher, is a fifth generation teacher; and Mrs. Press, a member of the English Department, is a third generation teacher. She has had close attachments to the school for a long time, though, since her three daughters attended Maine East.

It is apparent, despite student beliefs, that teachers are multi-dimensional and have "human" qualities. Next time you are out at the tennis courts or at a movie theatre or at a restaurant, beware — there just might be one of those "teachers" around.

East's 1976 Space Odyssey

Maine East blasted off to a great Homecoming, as this year's theme centered around the concept of future and space. "Tomorrowland" took place the weekend of October 22-23.

The traditional carnival, held inside this year because of the colder weather, began as soon as school was dismissed on Friday and continued thruout the evening. Some of the more popular attractions were the "Moon-walk" and the sponge-throwing booth.

The annual class competition featured such games as "End to End." Seniors took the first place trophy.

The Maine East Demons were in a winning mood Friday night, as both the Sophomore and Varsity Soccer teams defeated the Niles East Trojans. The traditional Firelight Rally followed the games. The Rally was highlighted by the announcement of the 1976 Homecoming Court.

"Demon Invasion" continues Saturday

The fun continued Saturday with the annual car decorating competition. This was the first year that the cars were decorated Saturday morning, instead of during the traditional Friday night festivities.

The Sophomore Demons kicked off at noon and got into the Homecoming spirit by defeating the Niles East Trojans. The Varsity football game followed.

Halftime activities began with the parade of the Homecoming floats. At this time, the Terrapin Club float was announced the winner. Halftime was highlited by the crowning of the Homecoming King and Queen, Sam Donatucci and Gayle Kreft. First runner-ups were Scott Russ and Kathy Baffes, second were Angelo Ranieri and Sue Farber, third were Ross Anzelone and Cindy Henreid, and fourth were Tony Ozzatto and Linda Galbavy. The afternoon was topped off by a Demon victory. The Varsity Demons defeated the Trojans by a score of 34-7.

Homecoming '76 was climaxed by the Homecoming Dance, "Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow". The dance was sponsored by the Senior Class, and co-chairmen were Barbara Bender and Helen Taylor.

Bob—
Well homecoming just wouldn't have been the same without your terrific (cough! cough) jokes) to wake us up! That a boring answer this and tomorrow question = Is really Chemistry harder than Biology? Good luck in all you do—I hope we can keep in touch after graduation! Love, Alison Stein

Fall play challenges talent

The Drama Department challenged the talent of Maine East students by presenting the fall play, "The Miracle Worker." Department Chairman Mr. Jeffers explained that an attempt is being made to present plays which are taught in the curriculum at school. Therefore, "The Miracle Worker," studied by English students at the freshman level, was chosen. Many freshmen who saw the performance felt that it enhanced their understanding of the play. English I teachers taught the play simultaneously with the production in October. As an educational incentive, freshmen were admitted to the Friday and Saturday evening performances at a discount price. Playing the lead role of Helen Keller was junior Barbara Goodman. Susan Pietrick portrayed Helen's teacher and friend, Annie Sullivan. Other leading characters were: Sally Zeppos, Tom Reed, and George Boudreau. Crew also played an important role in this year's fall production. Under the direction of Mr. Kleinfeld and student technical director Matthew Frawley, an elaborate re-creation of a wealthy, 19th Century Alabama home was created.

Top Right: Before the arrival of Annie Sullivan, Helen knew no better than to attack Martha, a servant's child on the Keller plantation. Above: Helen seeks comfort from her mother as the family looks on in distress. Right: Helen understands language and finds love from Annie and the world.

Moliere featured in winter play

This year's winter play had a new look to it. It was three plays in one. Two short readings, directed by students Barb Goodman and Kathy Jordan, were presented before the play itself.

The play, written by French author Moliere, was called "The-Mischievous Machinations of Scapin." It was about two sons, George Boudreau and Marc Smith, who try to get money from their fathers, Larry Nathanson, and Bill Donato, so they can purchase the girls they love, played by Cindy Bridges and Sue Ducas. They needed the help of Scapin played by Paul Crane, and the valet Sylvestre, played by Rich Musso, to do this.

The play was directed by student teacher Debra Thomas. It was considered a success.

Audiences find V-Show a laughing matter

Over 200 students and a hard working technical production staff combined to produce V-Show's, "It's a Laughing Matter." Student writers based V-Show on established and recent humor material. Some of the many clever acts included were: "The Family Revisited," taken from "Two Thousand Year Old Man"; "The Wallnuts," adapted from the "Laugh-In Show"; and "Eric the ½ Bee," taken from the "Monty Python Show." Another unique number was the "Confessions of a Senior Athlete"---which developed a group of boys who admit to their true desire to become pom-pon girls and their actual initiation into the group. The directors, who did a very fine job, were: head director, Kathy Jordan; musical, Alan Wax; vocal, Gayle Kreft; technical, Jerry Root; choreographer, Linda Menich.

Peter Nero featured at Pops Night

The Maine East Music Boosters this year featured Peter Nero at their annual Pops Night. Maine East music students were lucky to have the opportunity to work with such a proven professional.

Mr. Nero played many popular tunes, including "Summer of '42," which won him a gold record. He also directed the Concert Choir, Orchestra, and Band in several numbers. Mr. Nero also brought his backup group, consisting of Richard Nanista on electric bass and Andy Zoob on drums. They played a variety of their successful songs.

The concert was held in the auditorium and was sold out. The audience seemed to enjoy itself and gave a standing ovation when the show ended.

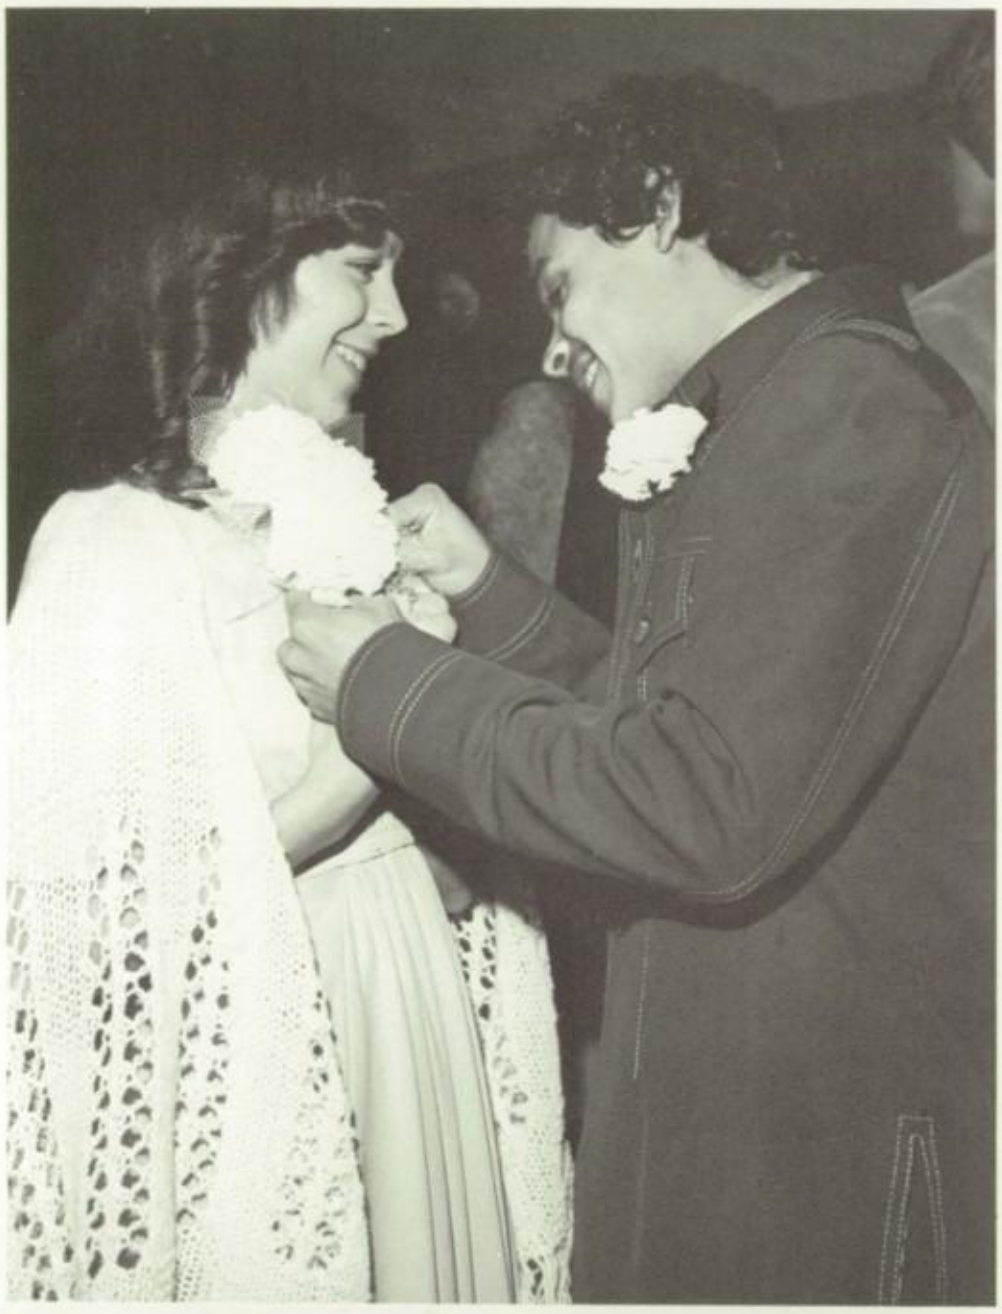
Some guys had all the luck



This year's Girls' Choice Dance, "Some Guys Have All The Luck," was held February 5 in the student cafeteria. The dance, which was co-sponsored by the Pom-Pon Squad and the Cheerleaders, was very successful. Over 300 tickets were sold at $4.00 a couple.

Couples danced to the music of "Total Eclipse". The group played a variety of songs from the 50's, 60's and 70's. Refreshments were provided for the tired dancers by the Cheerleaders and the Pom Pon Squad. They were also responsible for the decorations, which illustrated the theme of the dance.

Charity basketball game pulls a switch

The Charity Basketball Game provided a change of pace for Maine East students on December 11. Female faculty members played fine athletes, and male faculty members played M-Club guys and won by 1 point in the final second.

Entertainment was provided by the boys pom-pon squad, which performed to the Maine East pep song. The Girls' Gymnastics team took the place of the Varsity Cheerleaders, and M-Club guys took over for the sophomore cheerleaders.

All proceeds from the $1.50 admission charge were donated to the Salvation Army.

Council money hops over to charity

The Student Council Charity Soc Hop was one of the two very successful soc hops held this year. Student Council collected $800 which went to the Salvation Army. Sam Donatucci and Gayle Kreft were Mr. and Mrs. Santa. Students had their pictures taken with the Santas for 50¢. A live band, Cat's Cradle, provided the music.

The turnout at the 2nd soc hop was also very good. This soc hop, which was co-sponsored by WMTH — Student Council was held after the Maine East Maine South home game, which the Demons won by 28 points. Music was provided by records and a disc jockey.

International foods for all

The Maine East student cafeteria became the melting pot of District 207 when the International Dinner was held there on December 8.

German, French, Russian, Spanish, Italian, Latin, and Hebrew speaking students attended. There was no admission charge, but students were required to bring an ethnic dish. The dinner was served smorgasbord style.

Entertainment was provided by the language clubs

January graduates brave sub-zero temps

In spite of the abnormally frigid weather and Maine East closing for that day, approximately sixty seniors appeared at the January Graduation ceremonies. Speakers reviewed the Class of '77's history for the past three and one-half years as an excellant one, filled with learning and pleasant memories. Tears were seen during the minutes before the ceremoney; reminisceince was heard at the reception in the cafeteria.

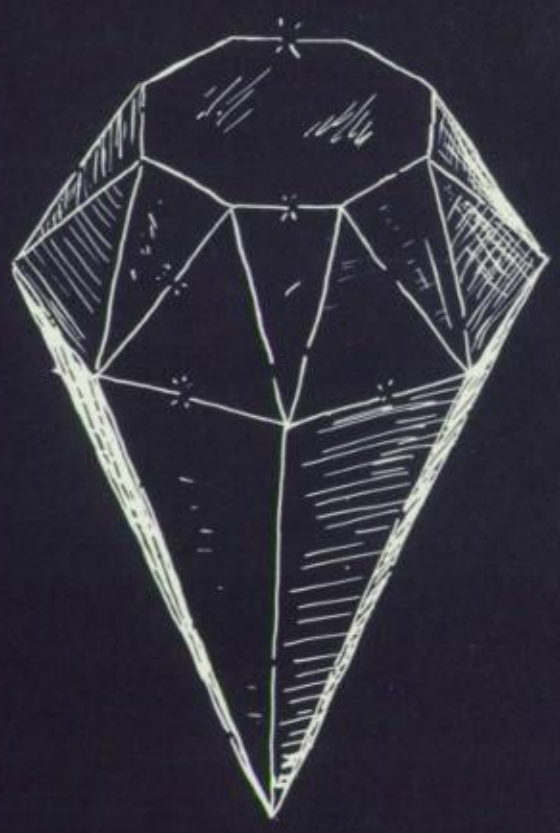
ACADEMICS



Jewelry-Making, Photo III offered by Art Dept.

Art Department enrollment rose by 100 this year. Mr. Whitley, department chairman, attributes this rise primarily to the popularity of the Jewelry Making courses and to the addition of Photography III.

Art education was not limited to classroom study this year. Students took field trips to the Art Institute, Brookfield Zoo, and Indiana Dunes to study art and natural life forms.

Three new teachers joined the department this year: Mr.Spallato, Miss Berndt, and Mr. Draho. Mr. Spallata divided his time between East and North. Miss Berndt taught Designs and Materials while Mr. Draho handled all photography courses.

The Art Department planned a permanent art exhibit in the faculty lounge beginning this year. Next year the Potter Wing Gallery will be reopened on a permanent basis so that students may see the work of outstanding local artists.

IBM Word Processor leased by Business Department.

The Business Department leased an IBM Word Processor from December through March, which was for the benefit of students in Office Practice and Office Occupations. As well as the upgrading of Data Processing hardware and facilities, a separate classroom and seminar room were added to allow classes from other departments to have access to this equipment.

In this "Diamond Jubilee" year, Mr. Will, department chairman, commented about his satisfaction with the curriculum. He is proud of East's early initiation of a vocational program. He feels that many students have been able to obtain full-time jobs because of the training in business courses.

Changes in personnel included Mrs. Cuser returning from leave of absence and the departure this spring of Mrs. Rutland for maternity leave.

Speech/Drama to expand

The Speech and Drama Department will be expanding its curriculum to offer two new classes next year, Dramatic Literature and History of Theatre. Although no new courses were added this year, many new skills were taught in the courses. In Drama II, for example, students learned to apply stage make-up. A studio theatre was also built to accommodate the growing interest in the study of the stage. In the television station, a Protopak unit, a type of mini-cam, was added and used in the drama and debate classes. This provided a chance for students to observe and critique their own actions, thus placing an emphasis on consistent and excellent performance. The addition of Miss Hamm, who taught Speech and Drama courses, an English course, and coached debate, marked the only change in faculty there. Mr. Jeffers, department chairman, noted that Miss Hamm added great strength to debate, as well as, to the entire department.

Driver Ed students learn all aspects of the car

The Driver Education program again gave students exposure to all aspects of driving a car. In addition to the driving instruction, students learned about maintenance, function, and the economical operation of a car. The required hours for the course are 33 in the classroom, 12 in the simulator and four in the car. These three phases offered the students a variety of learning experiences. This six-day cycle program, used by the department, gives the student driver more time in the classroom, simulator, and car. Unlike commercial driving schools, the course offers more time for learning and puts more emphasis on classroom study. In the future more driving time is being contemplated. The only significant change for next year will be the departure of Department Chairman Mr. Pawlowski, who has been at East for 24 years.

English Dept. adds ten new courses

The addition of ten courses to the English Department's elective program gave students a greater variety of courses to choose from, and at the same time, added better balance to the program, according to Dr. Howarth, department chairman. Also improving balance was the mandatory requirement for students to take courses from four sequences: Literary Themes, American Literature, Composition, and Media.

According to enrollment figures, the new Elements of Writing became the most popular course in the composition area. Other heavily-populated courses were: Horror and Suspense and Teenager in Literature in the Literature Sequence and Mass Media and Film Study in the Media Sequence.

In addition to the new courses, there was another change within the department. Sophomores, for the first time, were able to participate in the elective program with juniors and seniors. Dr. Howarth feels that the sophomores benefited from the exposure to the more mature and sophisticated views of the juniors and seniors.

Foreign Language students profit from cultural experiences

Italian and French students had the opportunity this year of sharing some of their teachers' and fellow students' experiences abroad. Mrs. Steinhart and her students spent the past summer and spring vacation traveling through France. Some of the group members expressed that they "came home with a new appreciation of America as well as a better understanding of the French language and culture." These experiences proved interesting and inspiring to other French students. Also, Italian teacher Mr. Grottola spent the past summer studying in Italy and spring vacation traveling with students through six cities of Italy. The stories, posters, and pictures he brought back to classes also helped students to better appreciate the culture and language. Department chairman Mr. Anderson was extremely pleased with the positive attitude of students enrolled in foreign language classes.

Advance-scheduling aids in efficiency

The 75th year of Maine East got off to a good start due to the advance-scheduling methods of the Guidance Department. The number of changes was considerably lower this year because of the new system.

Students once again had access to the Guidance Information System, the computer which provides feedback about the student's interests and college and career possibilities. More students took advantage of the computer's benefits this year.

The addition of Mrs. Westcott to the department marked the only change in personnel there.

New fashion course added to Home Ec

A new class, Clothing-Interior Design Occupations (CLID), was added to the Home Economics Department curriculum this year. Taught by new instructor Mrs. Lloyd, the related class covered careers in the fashion field.

Vocational training, however, was not limited to CLID. Food and Child Occupations programs gave students valuable on-the-job training. The success of the Nursery School, once again, gave East students in the Child Care Occupations program the opportunity to work with pre-school-aged children.

Home Ec students, including males, worked to improve the quality of their lives by enrolling in Psychology for Living, Single Living, Consumer Education, Foods and Clothing, and Child Development

Higher enrollment desired in relevant Industrial Ed

Although the enrollment is stable in the Industrial Ed Department, higher enrollment is desired because of the relevance and practicality of the courses offered. Money can be saved from the knowledge and application of the basic handtools. Additionally, many students can obtain good jobs from their Industrial Ed background. The department would also like to welcome an even greater number of females than are presently enrolled.

Department Chairman Mr. Scheldrup has found the department "always looking for newer and better ways to teach the students and to provide the students with the latest developments in various areas." The only change in faculty was the addition of Mr. Roberts, a Power Mechanics instructor.

Math students gain exposure to computers

Math students this spring were given more exposure to computers and computer programming. Freshman classes were introduced to computer possibilities during a two-day seminar in the spring taught by instructor Mr. Wilson. Computer literacy was taught to help students gain background information about the computer. Also, the addition of a computer unit to the Geometry curriculum is contemplated. Further attempt was made this year to incorporate the Metric System into the department. All new books and supplies purchased contain this unit of measurement. The addition of Mr. Phelan, who taught courses ranging from Introduction to Algebra to Advanced Math II, marked one of the changes in faculty. Miss Estes, who taught one-half of the time at Maine South last year, is now there on a full-time basis.

"Key" change marked by Nero appearance

This year the Music Department featured pianist Peter Nero as guest star at the annual Pops Night. It was expected that over 3000 tickets would be sold for this event. In previous years Pop Night featured Maine East Music Department talent. This was the first year that a professional musician was hired to entertain. The money raised from this event was used to benefit various Music Department programs.

Another change this year took place in the Maine East marching band. They developed a new style which concentrated on slower, smoother movements instead of the traditional marching style. The band also purchased new percussion instruments with money they won in various competition last summer.

While Maine East was celebrating its 75th anniversary, Tri-M (Modern Music Masters) was celebrating its 25th. The first Tri-M charter was granted to Maine East in 1951. The club is now nationwide, and an anniversary celebration was being planned for June in Fairfield, Ohio. Members from all over the country were expected to attend.

This was the first year that all music courses were granted a full credit. There were no new classes offered, but there was some new equipment purchased, such as an electric keyboard unit for the beginning piano class.

Co-ed Physical Ed. program initiated

Co-ed Physical Education classes were initiated second semester as part of a trial experiment. Self-defense, Swimming, Tennis, Badminton, and Volleyball were some of the co-ed P.E. classes offered. A committee of ten Physical Education teachers, five female and five male, decided which classes would become co-ed. Both Department Chairmen, Miss Bovenmeyer and Mr. Riek, were pleased with the plans for the co-ed program.

In addition to the other curriculum changes in the department, Yoga was a new course offered in the Girls' P.E. Department. Miss Bovenmeyer also noted that she was pleased with the increased participation in the girls' sports program.

In the Boys' P.E. Department the elective, Scuba, was initiated. Also, Archery was expanded and three new weight machines were purchased, For the wrestlers, the wrestling room was expanded over the summer to twice its previous size. Mr. Krohe's addition to the staff marked the change in faculty.

New equipment for Science Dept.

The addition of more advanced calculators, the replacement of the ripple tank wove generators in the physics lab, and the purchase of an air and water sampler for environmental study in the Earth and Physical Science courses were the equipment changes in the Science Department this year. In an effort for students to know their standing on comprehension of the learned material, more teachers printed objectives and refined their evaluation methods. In reflecting upon the progress of the Science Department throughout the past 75 years, Department Chairman Mr. Foreman said that the department has done an excellent job keeping up with the rapid scientific changes and developments. The staff has a far better background in science than at any time in the 75-year history of the school.

Social Science expands curriculum

In this political year the Social Science Department remained active providing political speakers. Candidates who spoke to the student body were: Penny Pullen, Aaron Jaffe, Alvin Marks, Samuel Young, Abner Mikva, and a representative of Eugene Schlickman's.

Three new courses were added to the department this year. Law and American Society was one new course which focused upon criminal justice and civil liberties. Featured in the course were simulation games and the movie "Twelve Angry Men." Accelerated Government was added as well as Accelerated Democracy, which centered around such topics as the energy crisis, overpopulation and pollution in the context of futurology.

Also new to the department was the integration of color video tapes. Three of these that had already been prepared focused upon the energy problem, the decline of colonialism in Africa and election campaigns.

The addition of Ms. Swanson, as the second female in the department, marked the only change in faculty.

LRC provides more materials

Trying to meet the students' needs was once again the goal of the Learning Resource Center. The LRC has grown from a library to a three-floor complex, offering materials to supplement the students' studies, and to aid them in the pursuit of their leisure activities. The Center continued to develop the student-interest media with the addition of popular magazine subscriptions, record albums, tapes, and paperback books. Guidelines for cooperation between the LRC staff and students were posted this year in an effort to maximize the value of time spent in the LRC.

Special Ed meets to offer most to students

More conferences were held by the Special Education Department this year. An advisory committee, consisting of Special Ed teachers, met with Department Chairman Mr. Geselter to discuss various problems. Also, district meetings were held between teachers of learning disability students. An In-Service program, too, was held for the other faculty members to learn the programs and to give orientation to the students.

On this 75th anniversary of Maine, Mr. Geselter assessed Maine Township as having a "unique program in special education which excels many others." Students with six types of handicaps are contained in the building. He added, "It is truly a school within a school since it provides for all of the community." However, several Center Court students are involved in school activities. For example, a Student Council representative was elected from Center Court this year.

Lens proves that "diamonds are forever"

The 75th anniversary of Maine East was recreated in this Diamond Jubilee Lens. Through the "Diamonds are forever" theme, the yearbook attempted to provide a verbal and visual demonstration of the Maine Way — past, present, and future.

The '77 Lens also expanded its coverage to teachers' lives as well as students. Information about teachers was obtained for the feature article through surveys distributed.

The Faces section also marked a change in the yearbook. The inclusion of all "mug" or face shots allowed more space for candids. The change also allowed the Academic section to focus upon student-teacher interaction — what academics are all about.

Pioneer focuses on school-related issues

This year's Pioneer emphasized more school-related issues in an effort to become a true school newspaper. More student and faculty surveys were presented, and more space was allotted for girls' sports. The Pioneer gave a complete picture of the various work program areas in conjunction with Project Big and showed more interest in explaining vocational programs. With its timely article, the Pioneer also publicized the new Yell Leaders and helped them get off to a good start. Also introduced was "Rudolph," a new cartoon strip. The journalism classes again contributed a lot to the Pioneer, as enrollment in these classes more than doubled from a year ago.

Council sponsors social events, charity projects

Student Council functioned this year more as a social organizer and as a charity fund raiser. For Homecoming activities, the carnival was held inside the fieldhouse due to cold weather, and Demon stickers and frisbees were sold. From a sock hop and a student-faculty basketball game came $875 for the Salvation Army. Tours for incoming freshmen were given during booksales. A frosh-person party was also organized for the freshmen. The Campus beautification project, begun last spring, was also one of Council's greatest endeavors. Approximately $2000 was spent to beautify the Commons Area with perennials and bushes. Additionally, 15 more benches are due to be added along the girls gym and Common Area. Some headway was made by the assembly committee in obtaining permission for outside entertainment and educational speakers. As far as developments in the controversial issues, like having a smoking lounge and open campus, no progress has been made. Mark Steinke was on the District Board, and most of the chairmen in the Quad Council were East members.

Juniors and seniors plan for proms

Senior year was an active one for those involved with Senior Class Council. Planning for the Homecoming Dance was begun in early summer by chairmen Barbara Bender and Helen Taylor. The dance was very successful in having the greatest number of people in attendance and in raising funds. MONACEP coffee nights were again used as fund raisers. From the candy cane sales before Christmas, and flower sales on Valentines day and St. Patrick's Day, additional money entered the class treasury. Mike Loeffler and Leslie Sellergren were the chairmen of a rather elegant senior prom "Memories of the Days Gone By," at the Lincolnshire Marriott Hotel. All of the fund drives substantially lowered the cost of the Senior Breakfast held at the Itaska Country Club. The Chairmen of the Senior Breakfast, "Times of Our Lives," were Phil Versten and Nancy Palchek. Activities were ended and most happily highlighted by graduation in June.

Junior Class Council devoted most of their time this year to the prom in May. The prom's theme was "A Night in Paradise," and juniors came prepared for an evening in the tropics. To raise money for the prom, the junior class sold candy, doughnuts, pens, and balloons.

Frosh-sophs host sales, social events

The Sophomore Class Council had a very successful year. Their jewelry sale made a lot of money which will be used in the coming two years. Other fund-raising events were candy and pumpkin seed sales. For Homecoming, the sophomores made a flying saucer float entitled, "Out of this World," and had a good turnout at the games. They also organized the sale of class rings. Reasons for the success of the council this year were cooperative and hard-working officers, especially Aimeé Blum, president, who was very instrumental in the success of the jewelry sale. Next year, the focus of this group will be the planning of the proms.

The Freshman Class Council also held some successful fund-raising and fun-raising projects. The first money-making job was the sale of doughnuts and apple cider at the Homecoming carnival. The other major fund-raiser was the peanut butter cup sale. The group also decorated a car for Homecoming, which placed second and hosted an open gym night instead of a dance.

Speech Team wins first in districts

The National Forensic League participated this year in the Individual Events Competition and in the Debate competition which qualifies students for the national tournament to be held in Seattle this June. Membership in this organization is achieved by earning 25 points in one of the speech activities or debate activities at East.

The Speech Team was first in Districts. Winners were: Scott Cohn, Barb Goodman, Claudia Mesch, Larry Nathanson, Paul Crane, Marc Smith and Art Lachman. East took third in the sectional at state competition, Scott Cohn and Claudia Mesch placed and the team placed tenth overall.

The Debate Team worked on penal reform this year and won or placed at 10 out of 15 tournaments. The outstanding varsity team this year was Jim Nash - Jeff Nye, whose record was 17-6. The outstanding JV Debate Team was Bill Factor-Sam Kaufmann who finished with a 34-7 record. In the Novice Division, outstanding team was Karen Pavakovic and Sheila Finnegan.

NHS functions as social and service organization

National Honor Society functioned as both a service and a social organization this year. The free tutoring program, which was held all periods and in most subjects, provided assistance and helpful hints to students who requested it. Donations to the Neediest Children's Christmas fund were made from the profitable homecoming booth. The Multiple Sclerosis canning drive was also successful. Honor guard for the June and January Graduations were members of NHS. During the annual "A" Honor Roll Tea, future NHS members met with this year's group.

Alumni return for cherry pie festival

The Cherry Pie Festival was the main project of the Maine Historical Society, which was founded in 1930. The annual festival began 8th period February 22, and students were excused from classes to attend the event in the cafeteria. Alumni of East dating back to 1910 appeared for the celebration. In addition to the guest speakers, the scene "Arsenic and Old Lace" was dramatized by Claudia Mesch.

MHS, which is sponsored by Mr. Carlson, also sponsored other programs based on some aspect of Social Studies.

Language clubs active

Maine East's foreign language clubs had an active year. Bake sales were sponsored by all the clubs. The French Club members went biking and tobogganing. The group terminated the year with the enjoyment of french cuisine at the spring banquet. German Club went on several trips during the year. They included a bike hike, a "spaziergang" or stroll through Germantown, and a trip to Milwaukee. The Russian Club enjoyed a trip to the University of Illinois and a gym and swim night. Spanish Club held a Frito sale, many field trips, and club officers arranged for tutors for those students needing help with the language. Italian Club members helped with the International Dinner and held such functions as a pizza party and a splash party.

Skiers rough the freezing conditions

Still the largest club here at Maine, Ski Club boasts 420 members. The group started off the season with a party where members enjoyed games, refreshments, and movies. The usual Friday night trips began on December 10 and continued until the last brave member refused to ski on grass. The first overnight trip was the annual trip to Indianhead/Powderhorn held the first weekend of Christmas Vacation. The second was to Boyne Mt., held in late winter. These trips allowed beginners and experts alike to try their skill at two of the best spots in the Midwest. The ultimate ski experience was the trip to Vail, Colorado over Spring Vacation. This year the members traveled by train, as air costs were too high. Despite constant binding checking, frozen noses and those who never made it back to the bus on time, Ski Club ran through another terrific season.

Riding club remains stable

The Riding Club continued to ride weekly at Northwestern Stables in Morton Grove, where they were instructed in Hunt Seat Equitation from the basics to jumping. Riding Club paid any necessary entry for members wishing to compete in the spring horse show. T-shirts were also purchased this year; and a pizza party was held before spring vacation. The year ended with the annual banquet.

Terrapin members "Dip into Disney"

Terrapin members were involved in a lot of activities this year. They had a first place in the car competition during Homecoming and a first place in the intramural volleyball tournament. Members helped the I.H.S.A. meet by selling T-shirts at the Girls' Gymnastic Meet. Attending clinics to learn stunts improved the girls' skills.

In addition to all these activities, Terrapin members put on their annual show. "Disney" was the theme of the show, and numbers ranged from "101 Dalmations" to "Mickey Mouse." Another floating number was added to the show.

Demon Guard helps 60 children to swim

Forty-five members participated in Demon Guard's program to help community children learn to swim. The group met each Saturday morning with 60 children ranging in ages from 5 to 13. Helping to run the program were faculty sponsors Mrs. Habershaw, Mr. Belmonte, and Mr. Nelson. East students were interviewed for the group and needed to exhibit a positive attitude and the ability to relate to young children. At the end of the school year, relays were sponsored and ribbons awarded.

Pep club, Ouroboros contribute to school

A group of 30 spirited students comprised Pep Club this year, which was led by sponsor Mr. Dollaske. The club members promoted school spirit and involvement in a number of ways. The group designed and exhibited posters throughout the cafeteria, decorated a car for the Homecoming parade, sponsored a kick-off dance at the beginning of school and arranged bus service for away games. Additionally, the members attended all sporting events, sitting in a special section with M-Club during home games. There were no officers, but according to Mr. Dollaske, chief poster-maker was Sharon Kozlowski; and most rah-rah member was Olga Stanjovski.

A staff of 20 helped to published the annual literary magazine, Ouroboros, also sponsored by Mr. Dollaske. Most staff members were Creative Writing students; and each member submitted at least one article for publication consideration. The group also read and typed material for the magazine that was submitted by other East students. The Ouroboros contains short stories, poetry, informal essays, and movie reviews.

Pom Pon squad attends camp

The 1977 Pom Pon Squad attended a summer camp where they learned a new style which involves more dance steps. The idea for the new pom-pons also came from the camp. They incorporated the new style into the majority of their routines. More than half the squad attended the camp in Valparaiso, Indiana, where they received a Special Recognition Award for their performance and spirit.

Along with the success of the Girls' Choice Dance, the squad raised money with a candle sale at Christmas time.

Yell leader squad formed

The Varsity Cheerleading squad along with 17 sophomore, junior, and senior boys, formed the 1977 yell-leader squad. The yell-leaders were formed by sponser Mr. Bolton of the Health Department. The idea came about from Mr. Bolton, alias Mr. Spirit, who had the intention of motivating spirit among the Maine East student body. Along with the Varsity football captain, Sam Donatucci, Mr. Bolton formed what is believed to be the first co-educational high school cheerleading and yell-leader squad in the state of Illinois.

Co-sponsors of the annual Girls' Choice Dance, the varsity and sophomore cheerleading squads, along with the Pom Pon squad, hosted the very successful dance, "Some Guys Have All the Luck."

Dancers perform a variety of shows

The members of all three levels of Orchesis, Basic, Junior, and Senior, worked diligently all year to give fine performances whenever they danced. V-Show audiences were entertained by members of Junior and Senior Orchesis. Some members participated in the spring musical. The biggest production of all for the group, though, was dance concert, entitled "Tenth Dance Concerto." A great variety of dances, ranging from ballet to modern jazz was performed by all members of the club. But, the girls did more than just dance; they went on many field trips which included West Side Story, the Nutcracker Suite, and University of Illinois Dance Day. In May the annual banquet was given by Orchesis, where all members received awards and gifts for all their hard work. Also, tryouts were held in the spring for next year's club. This year Orchesis showed it its efficient organization to its officers: Patt Sprafka, president; Nancy Palcheck, vice-president; and Heidi Kist, secretary.

No clowning around for Circus Club

Circus Club gave performances for a variety of audiences, including a Homecoming crowd. The club also appeared at Nathanson and Oak elementary schools. The appearance on Bozo Circus and the performing of their own circus highlighted this year's events. Amongst the star performers were: Tim Heinz, Terri Gross, Jeff Davitt, Donna Mancini, Ellen Barrett, JoAnn Bocconcelli, and Kathy Baffes, along with most of the girls' and boys' gymnastics team members.

More WMTH members — more shows

Many new shows were added to this year's program schedule on WMTH. A progressive music show, "Sounds With . . . " was one of the new ones. A "Middle of the Road" music show and "Broadway Review" replaced "Music for the Theater," which had played for seven years. These changes, and more, were made possible partially because of the expanded staff. Eighty hard-working students used their imaginations to provide ideas for the "Voice of Maine Township."

Some of the students interviewed on "Student Spotlight" were Tom Arvidson, vice president of Electronics Club and Michael Eterno, Tri M president. On "Current Comment" comedian Marty Allen and Bears' owner George Halas were interviewed.

"The Dave Santrella and Miles Rosenthal Talent Hunt" brought out the ham in everyone. The phones were lit up with prospective acts hoping to be put "On The Air." WMTH also sponsored successful Sock Hops.

Choruses maintain busy schedule

The choruses were kept busy this year with a minimum of three school concerts each. The Concert Choir participated in the Peter Nero Concert held in the auditorium. This was the first time that music students had a chance to work with such a well-known artist. Their singing talent was widespread for they held many performances beyond the walls of Maine East. All of the choruses went Christmas Caroling in various shopping centers and nursing homes. The Concert Choir also sang at the Museum of Science and Industry. The Madrigal Ensemble visited schools and civic clubs throughout the township displaying their ability. This year, instead of holding two periods of freshman chorus, the classes were combined. The same was done with the Mixed Chorus II classes. During the second semester the Madrigal Ensemble added pop-rock songs to their regular Madrigal arrangements. The biggest change this year was the full credit granted for all chorus classes.

Tri-M celebrates 25th anniversary

Enrollment increased in the bands and orchestras this year due to the recruitment of students from the freshman study halls. Mr. Hug was glad that these students were given a chance to enroll in music courses since many were not exposed to it in Junior High. The Concert Band marched at all home football and basketball games, along with the Drill Team and Flag Corps. They took a second place in the Niles Fourth of July Parade, and travelled to Cedarburg, Wisc., winning 1st prize there. The Concert Orchestra performed in central Illinois, for string consortium in February. This year marked Tri-M's 25th anniversary and since Maine East is the home of the first chapter, we will be represented in Fairfield, Ohio for the convention. The Band Staff rolled on sponsoring many fund raisers and activities including the Burn-Out Concert. A number of changes have also taken place. All music courses received a full credit this year, and jazz piano was introduced. The Chamber Orchestra was formed featuring outstanding musicians from different sections of the orchestra. Planned for next year is a new awards system that will give students individual recognition.

Clubs sharpen student skills

Math Club sponsored a guest lecturer for the sixth and seventh period math classes; Dr. Shively was the speaker, and the topic was "the concept of infinity." The Mu Alpha Theta initiation was held for the first time in the auditorium with parents in attendance. Dr. Weinzweig was the speaker at the ceremony. Plaques were awarded to the top three scorers in the M.A.A. Contest. A computer contest was held early in the year to sharpen basic math skills. Math Club also sponsored the annual picnic and softball game.

Amongst the books that the members of Sigma Chi Sigma read this year was Humbolt's Gift by Nobel Prize winner Saul Bellow. The club threw a Christmas party and and the annual spring picnic. A bake sale in March brought in the needed funds. Running the club were: Ann Edahl, president; Laurie Chrobak and Donna Meteski, vice presidents; and Erwin Keller, secretary.

M-Club strives to unify East athletes

M-Club had undergone a rebuilding period this year under the leadership of the new sponsor, Mr. Bolton. In addition to selling popcorn at the basketball games, M-Club gave a dessert treat to Pep Club members, cheerleaders, yell leaders, pom-pon squad, team members and boosters before a basketball game in recognition of their support to Maine sports. One of the goals of the club this year was to make the boys feel a part of the organization. A party held in March helped to accomplish this. An initiation ceremony was conducted in April for new lettermen.

Plant Club presents its version of "Roots"

Money raised by Plant Club during the Christmas Poinsetta sales was donated to an orphanage. Plant sales were held at various times during the year. and at Homecoming; each was very profitable and each had a wide variety of plants on sale. A successful dart game was the Plant Club's Homecoming booth.

Girls' Bowling team strikes up changes

This year the Girls' Bowling Club changed part of its format. Instead of having a match between the top two teams at the end of each semester, these matches were bowled on a quarterly basis. The main reason for this change was the interference with other sports' schedules.

The club consisted of twenty-two teams, with at least three players on each team. The girls' averages ranged up to one hundred and fifty, with games exceeding the two-hundred mark. Jan Hoffman was the club's president, and Myra Dunne and Beth Hoelter served as club secretaries.

Boys' team ends year with high scores

The Boys' Bowling Club this year continued their Tuesday afternoon bowling. The club consisted of 20 teams and close to 80 members. The boys bowled in two 11-week sessions, lasting until the end of March. The club was divided into two divisions. The boys bowled well, some averages ranging into the 180's. This year the club was led by President Mike Koz, followed by Vice-President Jim Barnes, Treasurer Larry Friedlander and Secretaries Al Jokover and Mike Politinsky.

Valuable training offered by technical clubs

The Graphic Arts Club again served the school by printing programs, tickets, and bids. They also aided the district by printing forms for the other Maine schools. The fifteen members, one of which was a girl, learned darkroom photography, color separation, typesetting, running of the press, and the process of silk-screening (T-shirt printing). The students worked with machinery valued at $150,000 and this year they had the opportunity of gaining experience on the new photo-typesetting machine. The club members enjoyed a field trip to a local, large industry. During international Printing Week in January, the club held its banquet. Speakers were invited to come and talk to the students about careers in graphics. The club's president was Dave Janofskey, with Joe Hanna as vice-president and Mike Kroll as secretary-treasurer.

The projects Electronics Club has worked on include learning amateur radio and shortwave listening. "Do-it-yourself" service clinics were help for students to use school test equipment to repair a malfunctioning instrument and to receive helpful advice on the appropriate care for electronic equipment.

Vocational clubs keep active

This year Diversified Occupations expanded their program. There were two projects that the D.O. students worked on. During the Christmas season, the D.O. students formed their own assembly line and made planters, of which they gave one hundred to a home for the elderly. They also visited American Motors and saw the movie "Blue Collar Trap." The other project this year was patterned after the Junior Achievement program. The students formed their own project, which was a bunny pushing a cart to sell at Easter time. In their own company, the students sold stock, planned the product, and also got paid by the other students. The wages earned were to go to the annual banquet. Next year, Mr. Norek hopes to expand by having the students own their own business with the other students as employees.

To see different merchandising and retailing operations, Distributive Education took field trips to Northern Illinois College, Water Tower Place and the Van Show at McCormick Place. They also participated in an area wide conference at Woodfield. The club placed fourth and took back four trophies. In the competition Gail Erickson was first in Public Speaking; Janet Bell was fourth in Public Speaking; and Tony Amaro was fourth in Job Interview. Frank Dodd, Jim Martins, Tony Amaro, Cory Ungar, Gail Erickson, and Judy Schwartz participated in the state contest in Chicago.

Members of the Cooperative Work Training program had various fund-raising projects throughout the school year to help finance field trips and club activities. Events planned for the club this year were tours of the Museum of Science and Industry, Civic Center courts and the Industrial Commission.

Occupations clubs participate in field trips

One of the Major events of the Child Care Occupations Club was their holiday gift sale. They also went on a number of field trips this year, including an outing to Children's Memorial Hospital. Their annual employer Appreciation Banquet was held in early spring and was a very enjoyable event.

This year the Food Occupations class had several interesting field trips. They went to Great America where they viewed all their food services facilities. Some students went to the National Restaurant Convention in Chicago. The class held their Employer Appreciation Banquet in the spring.

New teacher-coordinator Betty Lloyd started off this year with an exciting new class, Clothing Interior Design Occupations. The class is based on the student worker of the garment of interior design employment. Throughout the year, students participated in many class activities, both in and out of school. Their Appreciation Banquet was also held at the end of the school year.

How to succeed in business

One of the most active clubs in the Business Dept. was the Future Business Leaders of America. The highlight of the year was the hosting of the Northern Area FBLA Contest. The group also kept busy managing the concession stand, sponsoring a booth at Homecoming, and attending a state leadership conference in Springfield. Mr. Manning sponsored the group which had a high membership of 44.

The 41 girls in the Office Occupation Program enjoyed earning money in their selected fields. After attending morning classes, they showed their talent in office jobs in local communities. The girls participated in fund-raising activities, contests, and field trips to the Northern Trust Bank and the Civic Center. They also attended area and state leadership conferences and an Employer Appreciation Banquet in May.

Successful tennis season attributed to variety of factors

The Girls' Varsity Tennis Team finished with a conference record of 4-3 and an overall record of 6-3. The J.V. Team ended the season with a record of 5-4 overall and 3-4 in conference. Coach Broucek considered this a very successful year and attributed it to a hard working team. The girls practiced a lot in the off-season and improved even during the course of the season itself. The aquisition of talented students was also a major factor in their success. One problem not faced this year that was faced last year was lack of tennis courts. With the opening of the new courts, everyone had a place to practice. Also new this year was the coaching assistance of Mr. Wilson. Outstanding individual performances were provided by Debbie Goldstein, who came in second in her division in conference competition, and Randi Rosen, a freshman on the Varsity team. Randi played in the first singles position and placed first in districts.

Championship season for girls' varsity hockey team

The Girls' Field Hockey Team ended its successful season as conference champ with a 7-2 record. They were able to go far this year because of the many returning varsity players from last year. The varsity team, led by captain Carol Richards, was able to provide the field hockey fans with many exciting games, which on many occasions went into overtime penalty strokes.

The junior varsity team lacked the experience of the varsity team, but they made a good showing with a 2-6 record. They gained necessary experience for next year, when there will be many vacant places on the varsity team due to the seniors who will be leaving.

Linksmen enjoy successful season

The frosh-soph golf squad enjoyed a successful season. The linksmen finished with an 8-4 record and a 5-2 conference record. The individual highlight was MVP Dennis Callaghan's score of 80 which gave him a second place in conference. Captain Glen Krandel also did well, ending the season with an average of 43.

Lack of consistency hurts varsity golfers

Varsity linksmen terminated the season with a conference record of 2-5. Coach Keane attributed the record to lack of consistency. He said, "Individual players did well at times, yet there was not the necessary consistency to develop the winning combination. We couldn't get the four scores together." Leading the golfers was MVP Randy Ozmina, who had the low average of 42. The high point came during the middle of the season when the golfers had a string of three wins. They consecutively defeated Maine West, Niles West, and Notre Dame during this time.

Although there were no female members on the golf team, Coach Keane commented that girls were welcome to participate.

Frosh gridders win conference

For the first time the Frosh A football team captured its conference championship. In spite of injuries which plagued the team, the Demons were able to meet the challenges offered by their opponents. Coach Sartini was extremely pleased with the offensive line. Players which demonstrated outstanding ability in offensive play were: Shane Nugent, Dave Lloyd, Dave Lundberg, Lee Wittenstein, Mark Bruscato, and Steve Dickson. Backfield players who performed well were: Don Jensen, Scott Tomasik, Mike Coy, and Chris Katris.

The Frosh B team captured its conference championship, also, and terminated the season with a 7-1 record. One of the team's greatest strengths was its defense. Good blocking was essential to the team's success. The toughest competition they faced was Glenbrook North. Their 22-20 victory in this game determined their conference championship.

Sophomore gridders end season with perfect record

The Sophomore gridders finished their season with a conference record of 7-0 and a perfect 9-0 record. Coach Presern attributes the undefeated season to a total team effort. There was no one overriding strong point, but all players worked very hard. A variety of strategies and plays from week to week on offense kept opposing defenses off guard. Good playing by defensive backs forced opposing defenses to run into a tremendous defensive line. There were many strong individual performances, including those by quarterback Dave McCarrell and Bob Heath, who was voted MVP. Coach Presern is pleased that nearly all players will be back next year to bring the winning style to the varsity level.

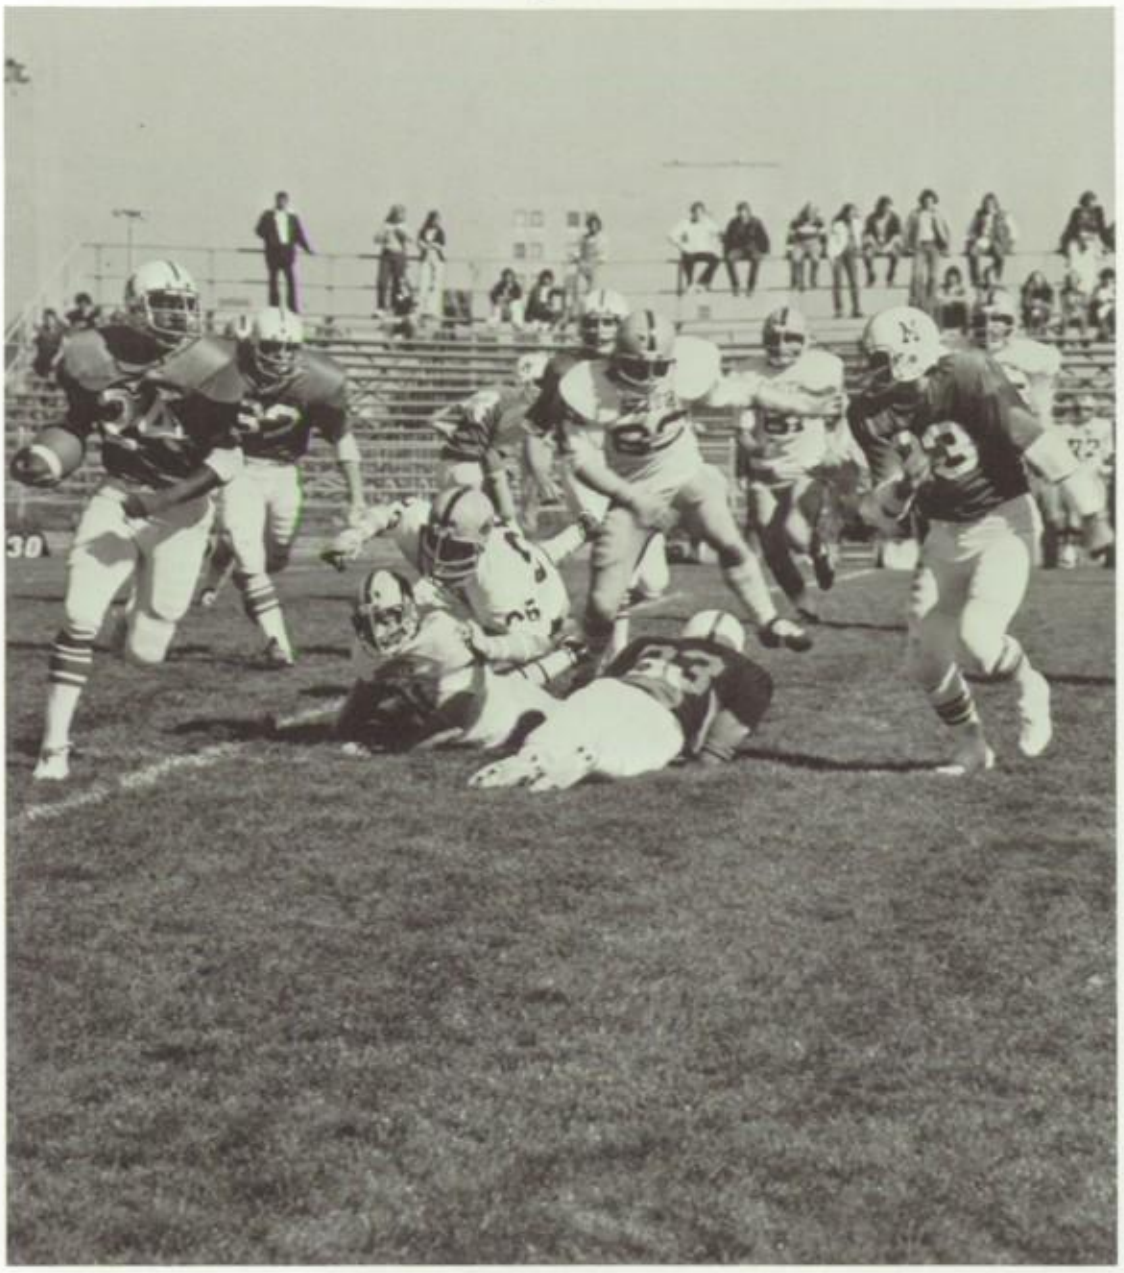
Varsity gridders upset Glenbrook



This year's Varsity Football squad finished the season with a 6-3 record. Coach Eck was extremely pleased with the team's performance this year. This was expected to be a rebuilding year due to the loss of 22 players who graduated from last year's 7-2 team.

This successful season was highlighted by the 34-6 Homecoming victory over Niles East and an impressive upset 14-7 victory over previously undefeated Glenbrook North during the eighth week of the season. The team was led by co-captains and all-conference winners Sam Donatucci and Craig Franklin. Donatucci was also voted MVP. Five other team members who earned all-conference honors were: Dave Perry, Dexter Brown, Mark Domanchuck, Bob Warmen, and Dave Bold. According to Coach Eck, "These players led the seniors in maintaining the high degree of football excellence at Maine East."

Lack of scoring punch hurts frosh kickers

Lack of scoring punch and lack of proper mental attitude hurt the frosh kickers, according to Coach Kessler. Although there was individual talent and a great deal of potential seen, as a team the freshmen were only able to produce a 4-7-1 record. The toughest competition faced by the Demons was Glenbrook North. Coach Kessler commented on how well the team accepted the challenge as displayed by the fine performance during the game. He was also pleased with their playing during games against Glenbrook South, Niles East and Maine South. Co-captains for the team were John Gulliksen and Richard Wanat.

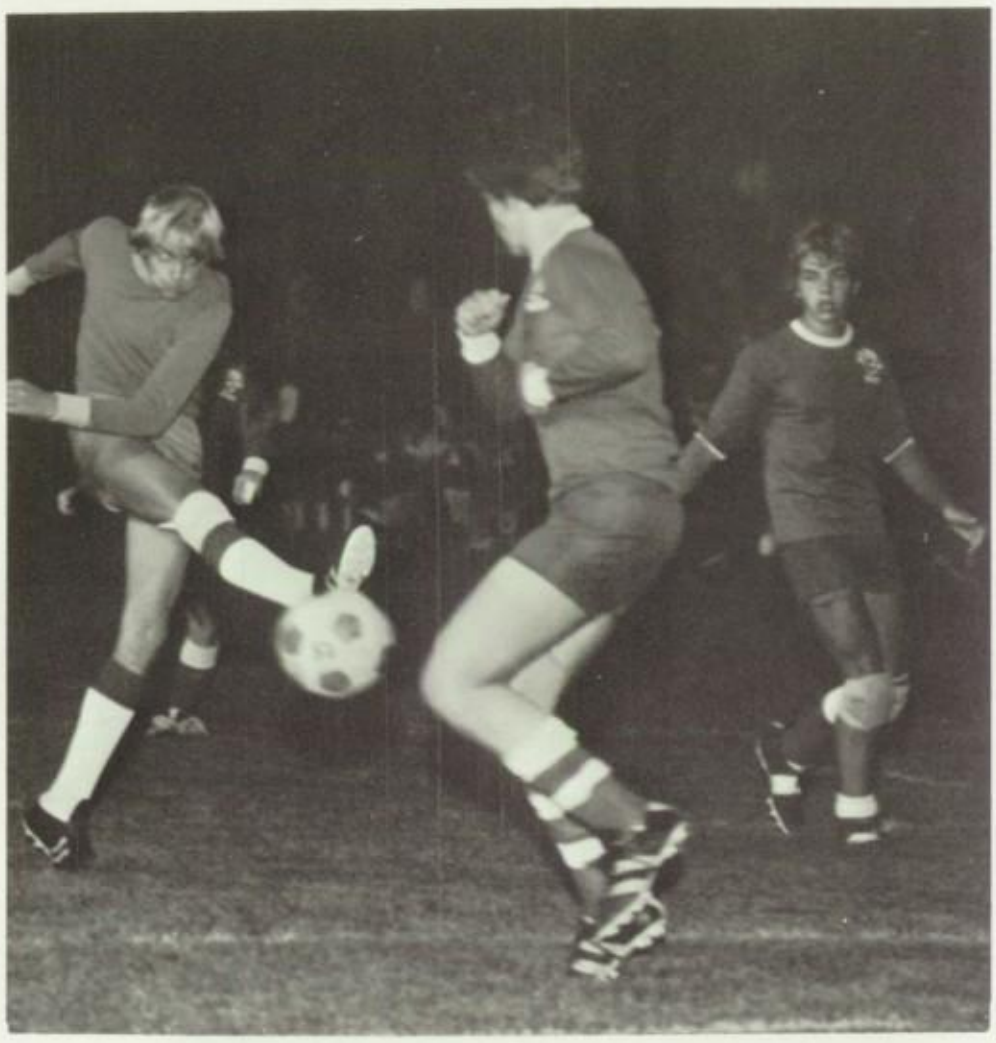
Sophs kick off good season



Coach Woerter was pleased with the performance of his sophomore soccer team which finished the season with a 6-8 record. One of the greatest accomplishments was the Demon's 4-3 victory over Wheaton in the first game of the season. As freshmen the kickers were defeated 6-0 by Wheaton, so the victory was significant.

Alfonso Curiel was voted MVP and served as co-captain with Steve Wattecamps.

The team's performance was superior during night games, and Coach Woerter attributes this to good spectator participation.

JV team kicks off to good start

The junior varsity soccer team ended the season with a 2-4-2 record. The Demons won their first game with a shutout.

Jeff Davitt and Andy Andreou combined for the shutout. The JV's played excellent soccer in the Homecoming game, in spite of the 0-0 tie.

Kickers help host state tournament

Good goalkeeping and scoring were the strengths of the Varsity Soccer Team, which finished the season with a 10-6 record. According to Coach Dollaske, the lack of proper balance and a spotty defense that did not start the offense well hindered the team's performance.

Although the team did not get far in state competition, the kickers did help host the state tournament at East. Members acted as hosts for teams on campus, ran sidelines with extra soccer balls, and sold concessions.

The team's captain and MVP was John Castellano. All-conference kickers were: John Castellano, Gary Brown, Roland Weiss, John Lee, and Housh Khoshbin.

2nd place frosh harriers run excellent record

Frosh runners successfully began the long road to creating another top varsity team. The frosh harriers completed the season with a meet record of 8-2 and placed second in conference. Contributing runners were Ben Virray, John Read, Stan Ozarowski, Mike Katz, Mike Egle and Paul Baffes. Coach Coughlan commented that the freshmen demonstrated great improvement throughout the season.

Sophomores race to victory

The sophomore team record of 10-0 illustrated how the harriers dominated their competition. Capturing the conference title, placing first in the Ottawa Invitational and third at Rockford, plus several shutouts were highlights of the season. Dan Phalen was the top sophomore runner. His conference victory and record-breaking score boosted him to the varsity level. The sophomore pack consisted of Steve Wenke, Jeff Fied, Gary Heath, and top frosh runners Paul Baffes and Mike Egle. Mr. Coughlan feels all will contribute greatly to next year's strong varsity.

Varsity harriers tie for conference championship

This year's varsity squad completed another successful season under the coaching of Mr. Coughlan. Helping the team to enjoy a successful year were all-conference runners Bill Fied, Pat Donahue, Jeff and Gary Mattes, and Ken Struck. The varsity runners finished the season with a 10-2 record and tied for conference title. Too, they took a third place in the district meet, a fourth at the Peoria Invitational, a first at Ottwa and a second at Rockford. Returning juniors for next year's top varsity are Steve DeChaud and Dan Phalen, both state meet qualifiers.

Volleyball teams exhibit improvement

The Varsity Volleyball Team ended its season with six wins and nine losses. The team improved tremendously this year, but unfortunately so did the other teams in the conference. The girls worked hard and became efficient at their new multiple offense. Coach Alice Barthold said they had an enjoyable season and learned a lot about volleyball. Co-captains Mindy Benson and Sue Golan added greatly to overall team play. There was one freshman on the varsity team this year, Jan Hoosline, who showed outstanding potential for future years.

The junior varsity volleyball team had a successful season this year under the coaching of Mrs. Geselter. They terminated the season with a record of six wins and four losses. Team member Sue Koss attributed the winning record to the all-around good attitude and spirit of the girls participating. Many of the girls improved their skills greatly and will be an aid to the team next year. A new addition to the volleyball teams this year was the freshman team. The freshman girls had an impressive win-loss record of 5-1. Next year Coach Barthold plans to make this team a junior varsity B team.

Bowling team has a ball placing first

The Girls' Bowling Team this year came out on top, placing first in their division. There was one problem, however. Due to an oversight concerning league eligibility rules, the team was forced to forfeit most of the meets. It was still a good year, though; Jan Borowczyk clinched high series with a 504 and also high average for the year with a 148.4. The Junior Varsity team also did well, placing third in the division. In the Invitational Meet, the Varsity won third, while the JV took sixth place. In the District Meet, the varsity placed fifth.

Challenge for swimmers

The Varsity Swim Team which had a record of 6-4 was fourth in a very stiff conference. There were better swimmers who competed well, but Coach Geselter felt that there should have been more all-round depth. She also attributed competition experience to the AAU organization which has a year round swim program. Several girls competed in State Competition placing 12th in overall team points. Swimming on the medley relay were Paula Tice, Dawn Jenson, Sheri Friz, and Cindy Majewski; the relay placed ninth. Paula also competed in the 400 yard free style. Dawn took first 100 yard breast strike and third in the 200 IM. A Junior Varsity Team was formed because of an increased number of interested girls, who yet weren't prepared for the varsity level. They had a 5-5 conference record. Cindy Majewski, who last year was a diver, began this season on the JV squad and finished it on varsity. Kim Brosnan also moved from JV to varsity and is a probable state competer. Alison Grieco was the captain of both teams. The varsity MVP was Dawn Jensen. The JV MVP was Carol DeFrancesca. With only two divers, both in their first year of competition, the divine team took fourth in the conference. Both girls competed in the districts. Coach Geselter hoped for more divers to join then next year in state competition.

Frosh netmen enjoy winning season

The Freshman A Basketball Team finished their season with an 11-9 overall record. Their 9-5 conference record earned them third place. Coach Breitzman considered this a successful season, and attributed it to good hustle and rebounding. There was a good team attitude and good team concept of how things should be done. Highlights of their season were last-second come-from-behind victories over Niles North, Niles West, and Glenbrook South. The Freshman B Basketball Team took first place in conference with a 12-1 record and a 14-2 overall record. Strengths were good defense, team speed, and good shooting. Brad Fishman was the leading scorer. Bob Peterson and Jim Sunblom also provided good individual performances. Their season was highlighted by a game in which they scored 71 points.

Sophomores successful in defensive efforts

Despite some early season bad luck, the Sophomore Basketball Team enjoyed a very successful season. Two of the starters from last year's frosh team moved away, and starting center Ken Borowski broke his foot during the first week of the season. But the team worked very hard all year long to overcome these problems and did very well. Much of what the Sophomores worked on was defense, which was definitely an asset. It was a very quick and aggressive team defensively, as illustrated by the low scoring they kept their opponents to. Of 15 games played, they kept their foes to an average of 41 points per game. The only real weakness the team possessed was lack of size. The best all-around player was Bob Webber, who led the team in scoring. Coach Sartini says that all of the players on the Sophomore Team could, if they worked hard, play either Varsity or J.V. next year.

Top varsity players lead team to 1st in conference

The Varsity Basketball Team this year won conference for the first time since 1964. Their conference record, before the tournament, was 13-1, and their overall record was 20-5. Coach McClelland attributes success to the fact that there were eight top quality players, whereas most teams have only three or four. These talented individuals played even better as a team. Major strengths were quickness, good full court man-to-man defense, and all-around aggressiveness All-conference players were Dexter Brown, Mark Manbeck, and Scott Russ. Also contributing much were Larry Wayland and Paul Cohen, plus a good bench. For next year, the team will have to start rebuilding because most of the great players this year were seniors. Next year's players have good ability, but a season like this one doesn't come very often.

Gymnastics Team captures state title!

The Maine East Girls' Gymnastics Team captured the state title at the first state meet ever held. The meet was hosted by East during the weekend of February 11-12. The team was the most dedicated and competitive group of girls Coach Axelson had ever worked with. She attributed the winning season to a combination of team unity, natural ability, dedication and hard work.

During state competition senior captain and MVP, Donna Mancini, placed 4th in all-around competition, placing in uneven bars, floor exercise and balance beam. Co-captain Ellen Barrett was the state vaulting champion, performing her olympic-level Tsukahara vault; she also placed 4th in uneven bars. Other members who placed in the state meet were: Kathy Baffes, Gaby Isola, Kathy Brizzolara, and Karen Sele. Playing a key role in the team's successful season were Cyndee Graff and Sue Kane.

The team had won the South Division championship and the districts. Fourteen girls qualified for the state meet, which was the highest number of competitors from any high school.

Frosh, Soph teams show good prospects

The Freshman Gymnastics Team ended their season with a 6-4 overall record. According to Coach Beckwith, the team could have possibly gone 9-1 without some untimely injuries and illnesses, but the season was still a successful one. Outstanding performances were turned in by Dave Kaye, Mark Picchiotti, Steve Fisher, and Jim Mathis. The strongest events for the freshman were the parallel bars and the side horse.

The Sophomore Gymnastics Team had a perfect 13-0 record, with only the conference meet to go. Team depth was the greatest asset, as they broke almost every team and individual record, including an all-time high point total for the team, 100.14. There were really no weak events for the sophomore gymnasts. The whole team showed great potential for the future. Ron Bartusiak and Joe Ray showed especially outstanding potential.

Gymnasts end season of hard work

The Varsity Gymnastics Team finished their season with a 6-7 record. Captain Paul Dudek and the other team members worked very hard this year. Sophomores and freshmen often were brought up to varsity level to fill vacant positions; this was an asset to the team's scoring. Coach Gardner said that if the present freshmen and sophomores keep up their outstanding skills, Maine East will be one of the strongest gymnastics teams in the state during the next three years.

Illnesses pin grapplers down

A season plagued with injuries and sicknesses hurt the Varsity Wrestling Team. The season did, however, begin well. The MVP was Emil Hernandez. The captains were Brian Shields and Russ Karlins. A good future is expected for the young grapplers if they remain on the team and stay healthy.

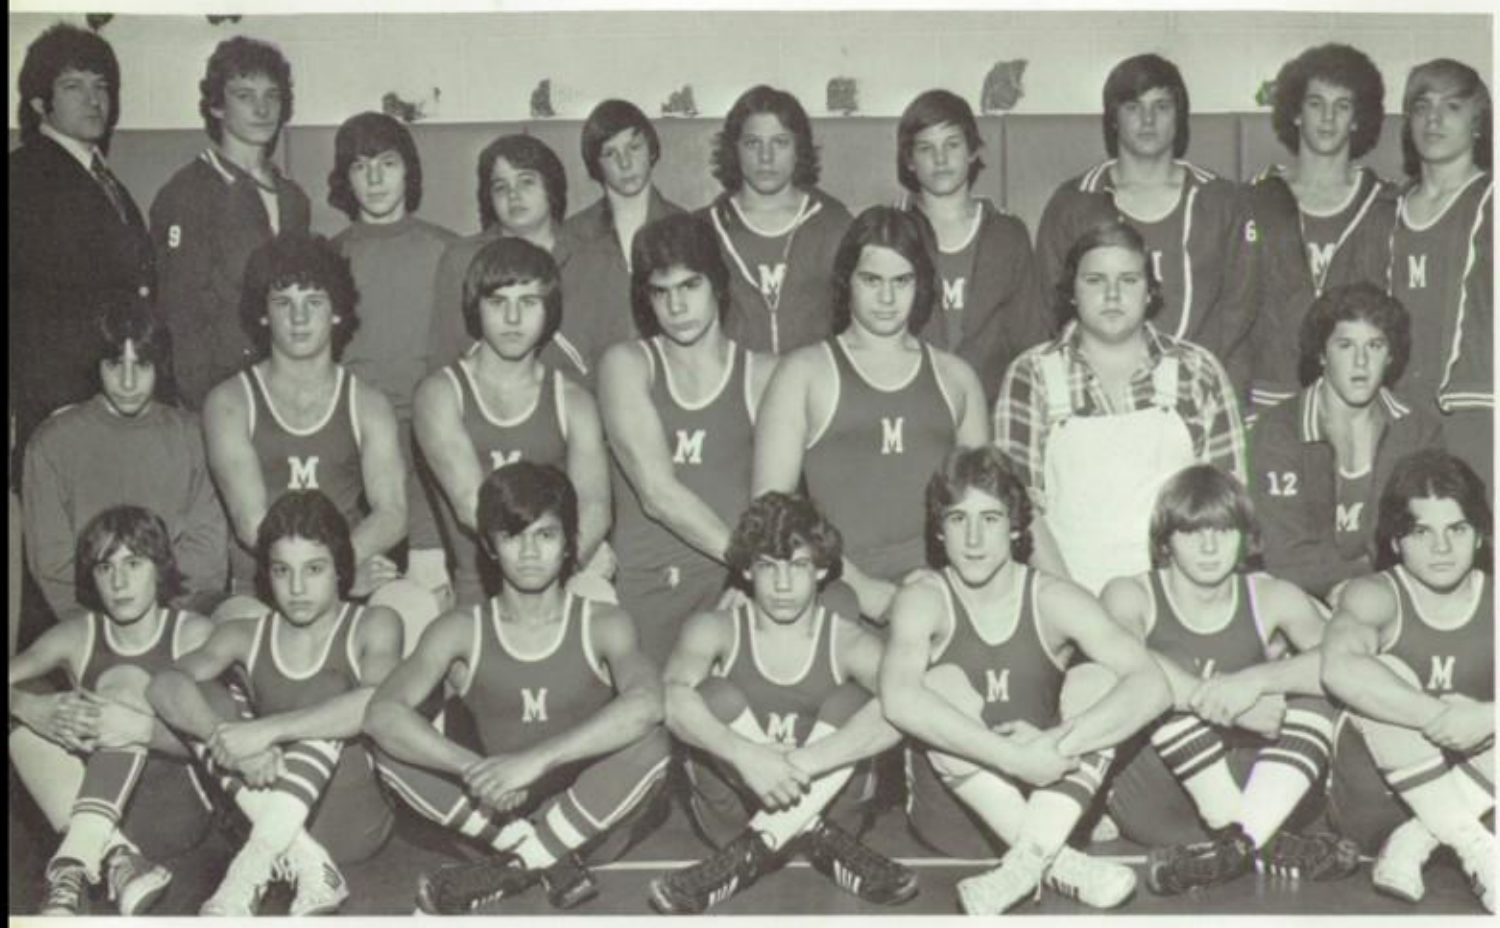
Frosh grapplers hindered by injuries



The frosh grapplers enjoyed a an excellent season this year. Coach Geselter felt the season would have been better had there been fewer injuries. Six of the first starting members suffered injury throughout the year. He does, however, see a bright future for the wrestlers.

Ben Viray was sent to districts with the amazing record of 15-1. Other outstanding athletes were: Capt. Frank Andrew, Mark Katz, Neil Unterberger, Tony Masiarz, Ed Rizzo, and Jim Weigel. One of the most exciting meets occured at La Grange, where the team placed third over all other competitors.

Swim teams show improvement

The 16-member Frosh Swim Team ended the season with a 3-6 record, placing fifth out of eight in the conference meet. Coach Nelson was pleased with the many swimmers who had never competed prior to this year. Improvement, he noted, averaged approximately 15 seconds per 100 yards. The highlight for the team was their 90-79 victory over Maine South. Outstanding swimmers this year were: Jim Tajiri, Jeff Nankervis, Kevin McKervey, Mike Lippman, and Steven Dickson. Coach Nelson commented that, "Tajiri is the most outstanding freshman swimmer I have ever known."

The Sophomore Swim Team had a very successful season with a 3-0 record and one cancelled meet. Coach Davitt attributes the success of the sophomores to the overall improvement of freshman ability and feels that if they continue to improve in this manner, they will be just as successful as the varsity team. He feels that what the varsity team loses in seniors will be filled in by the many talented sophomores. The team's MVP was Mark Shafernich who was very successful in all his meets.

Senior breaks three school records

Varsity swimmers completed the season with a 4-6-1 record. Individual performances from team members were outstanding. Senior Scott Schwandt broke three school records in the 50-yard, 100-yard and 200-yard free style.

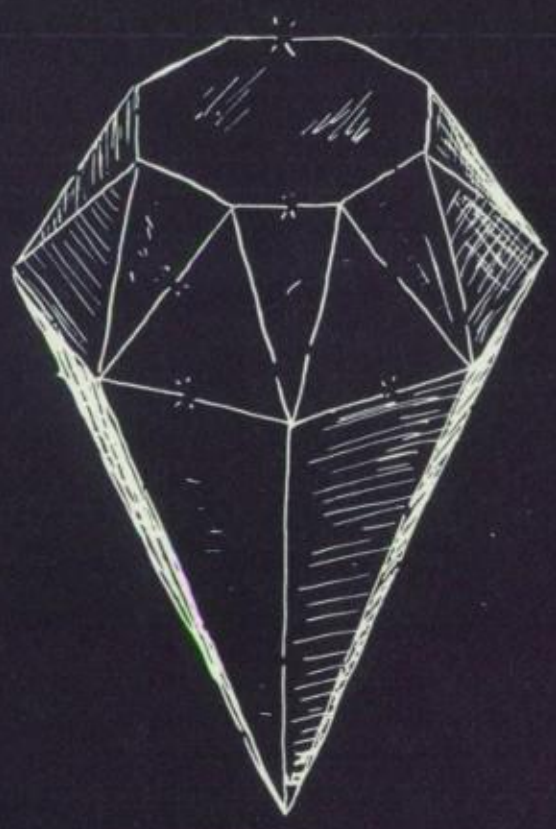
FACES



Changes made to enhance curriculum

The Maine Township District 207 introduced co-educational physical education this year. Maine East was one of the first to incorporate the program into its second semester curriculum. Another curriculum change in the district was in a more personalized student/teacher relationship. The "human touch" was emphasized so that learning and education could take on a more meaningful style. For the first time in the district, enrollment was on a decline. The administrators feel that this will be a slight advantage for the students and community because facilities will be more accessible. Administration changes took place in the addition of Arthur Paulsen to the administration staff and Donald Kenney as the new assistant superintendent in charge of business. Harold Markworth and Merlin Schultz both retired at the end of the '76-77 term.

Administration supports anniversary celebration

The Diamond Jubilee was recognized here at Maine East through the many music concerts and V-Show. Through the 75 years of Maine Township, the school has remained stable with parental, faculty, and student interest on the increase.

There was a new approach taken this year for the problem of students cutting classes. Stricter measures were taken to curb the excessive cutting, after the successful change last year in the tardy system. The students' development and comprehension were emphasized, as counselor and deans intervened to inforce a stricter system.

Maine East Dean of Boys Mr. Schildgen and Dean of Girls Ms. Anzalone attended Illinois State Deans Association Annual Convention this year. The convention dealt with alternative methods and programs in the area of student control and discipline.

Bits of trivia that occurred during our four-year history at Maine were: a streaker showed up our freshman year; new floors and ceilings were installed, students directed productions, and mini-courses began during our sophomore year; walls were painted in a wide range of colors, the last mini courses were held, bicentennial minutes were added to the daily bulletin, and the bicentennial celebration ended our junior year; senioritis, co-ed gym, new windows, an all school assembly and the Diamond Jubilee happened our senior year.

mps and streaks

We have had an interesting high school career. For our last year, we had state title-holding girl gymnasts among our sports accomplishments. Individually, Ellen Barrett has earned her way to the olympics. Leaders were diverse in the class of '77. There were the excellent class presidents: Linda Piton, Cindy Henreid, Steve Pietrick, and Bill Donato. Pat Hunt was our senior year student council president. The many club presidents knew their work had minimal effect within Maine East, yet they all tried to help the special interests of the students. Environmental clubs and yell leaders came into existence for us. The sports teams' captains pulled their teams together, and together they won.

The social needs were also provided for by our councils. Our freshman dance was " Jailhouse Rock"; sophomore, "Saints 'n Sinners"; Junior Prom, "Starlit Dreams"; Senior Prom, "Times of our Lives" Student Council gave us many dances and homecomings. Sock hops were revived for us by WMTH and council.

To put a yearbook together that covers an entire school year full of events, activities, and people requires a great deal of work. But through the cooperation and determination of hard-working staff members, the effort proves to be more than worthwhile. Through the 224 pages of the Diamond Jubilee Lens, the 75-year-history of the Maine Township High School District has been acknowledged and honored. We offer this yearbook as a salute to the successful past of Maine and to its continued success.

There are always many people who deserve much thanks for successfully completing a production such as this yearbook. Our representative from American Publishing Co., Mr. Hackleman, has been an asset to the entire production of the '77 yearbook. Root Studios provided us with many unique shots to help us convey the book's theme and to enable us to have more dynamic pictures. Our gratitude goes to both of these companies for their unlimited cooperation.

The coaches, faculty and administration also deserve our appreciation for their cooperation during interviews and meetings. With their help, the staff was able to recap an entire year in words and in pictures. A special thanks to Mr. Norek for his contribution of artwork.

A yearbook such as this one could not ever be done without a hard-working staff, who was always willing to give us time and energy in the last-minute emergencies. Our advisor, Ms. Golman, deserves our warmest and deepest gratitude for all the help and encouragement she has given us and the yearbook. Together, the staff, Ms. Golman, and the editors have worked year-round to try and produce the best quality yearbook possible. Our sincere appreciation could never be fully expressed to all of these people.

In closing, as editors we would like to say, that this yearbook is not to be thought of only as a closing to the 1976-1977 school year, but also as a beginning of the continued success for the Maine system and its students. We hope that the Maine Way of non-prejudice, integrity, respect, responsibility, friendliness, and sportsmanship, will always be a guide in all of our lives.

Dear Bob,
What can I say? Except I will miss you next year in my english class. What am I going to do without you cutting me down? This year was pretty good and having you in one of my classes and sometimes, but it added to it; what I don't know, I'll see you over the summer, Maybe Matt. Take care of yourself Peggy 'cause you're a great guy. I hope you do super next year at school (and in hockey) Don't be to good to stop by to say hi! Take good care and I'll see you in the summer.

Love,
Janice

Bob,
This year had to be the best season. I never had such a riot in my life. When hockey was over, there seemed to be nothing to do. But the new season will be here soon enough. I'm really glad I had a chance to get to know you Matt

Bob,

It's been a long, long year in math class remember all those arguments we had over things with Kathy. There were the good times & days. We've had lots of good times & lots of boring bad ones. Maybe I'll see you @ a party sometime, remember the last time, with Mike after the East-South game. Have a great summer and good luck in the future.

Your friend,
Fred Lankman

Bob. Can I have your locker for what tomorrow locker thing! Had the body tomorrow locker thing! Had the been playing Bob this year & I know you'll won it a long time. Bob & I think we'll get a good could've and & think we'll get you really a we won time ever school that up. Best luck always next time next year don't keep it do well in school
anything else locker. Please your friend.

Dear Bob,

I'm really glad I got to meet you this year.
You a great kid and I'm proud to say you my friend.
Good luck in all you do in the future and have a great summer.

Take it easy,

Frank Cozzi

Dear Robert-el-Stalz,

Two years of math and now we are so learned that I think that we should all edit a book
- How to be Totally Confused in Pre-Calc" or
"The ABC's of Trig"

Anyway, we've had loads of jolly fun and I'm going to miss ya next year. You're such a sweet guy! Have a great life and drop me a line next year - but please no math problems.

Love ya lots,
Rand Rosen

Bob,
Even though it's true you knew Elise before I did it wasn't held it against you ... muscles. Just don't Treat any more unwelcomes. Will probably stop by in over the summer and cut your up sw[illegible] get Terese for phet. Has you really think rinos is [illegible] - maybe we should get up a petition to commit.
Forget it, she's harmless beyond thing me in the mountains.

Bob, you are one crazy m F I mean when you drive You're also a bad hockey player ( kidding. Also don't go to the beach too much. It's getting boring. Have a great summer and I'll see ya. Good luck
next year.
David Holmes

Bob, English
pretty but true was pretty bad and this year made people fear and class much better course it was down. Had fun
